FACES OF HAMILTON COUNTY

People who call our community their own.

What makes Eric Bowman smile? "Theater" and "Knowing that no matter what life throws at you, Go always has your back," said the 49-year-old Noblesville resident of 17 years, who works as an optician in Fishers. He was born and raised in Kokomo and is a 1991 Kokomo High School graduate. He has lived in Noblesville for 17 years and has been an optician for more than 30 years. He auditioned for his first play, The Belfry Theatre's "It's A Wonderful Life" in 2018 and has never looked back, performing in several productions a year ever since. Last fall, was Mr. Gilbreth, the dad, in The Belfry Theatre's "Cheaper by the Dozen" family comedy play, playing opposite Jennifer Nicholson, the final weekend as Mrs. Gilbreth, at Noblesville First United Methodist Church. Recently, he made his directorial debut for Duck Creek Players (inaugural season) in Elwood, directing Shakespeare in the Park, for "Much Ado About Nothing." He has performed in several plays and has run tech for three others. He was a designer and operator of lights and sound and helped with props for Westfield Playhouse's "Raisin in the Sun," which was canceled due to the pandemic. He also ran lights and sound for the playhouse's "Lie, Cheat & Genuelect." Eric said, "Now people keep asking me to do the tech, but I want to do more on stage." In his first musical audition, he was cast in The Attic Theatre's "Music Man." He said, "I almost passed out." Now that he's comfortable, how does he decide whether or not to audition for a show? "If there is a part in it I can do, I'll probably audition." He recently finished playing the role of Detective Sgt. Trotter (above) in Duck Creek's "Mousetrap," directed by Bill Smith, at Elwood Opera House. Upcoming, Bowman will portray Louie in Basile Westfield Playhouse's "Flaming Idiots," today through Sunday and April 8-10 and will also play with Sir. John Middleton in The Attic Theatre's "Sense and Sensibility," directed by Bill Smith, in May.

Ask Rusty – Should I Claim Early Due To Social Security's Financial Condition?

Dear Rusty: I plan on retiring at 62, one year from now. I have been coached to (if financially possible) leave my Social Security earnings for my wife to collect in the future if I die, considering that she was a homemaker for the majority of her income earning years. My instinct is to get Social Security coming (I understand I'm settling for a lesser amount at age 62) as soon as possible considering the forecast of our government's inability to fund Social Security for the rest of my life. No one has a crystal ball, and no one knows what our government will or will not be able to fund even into next week, so we weigh what we know and see, and then decide. Is my question clear?
Signed: Skeptical

Dear Skeptical: Well, your question is clear but contains two opposing factors - you say you wish to provide well for your wife if you die, but also say you wish to claim at age 62 because you're not confident that Social Security (SS) will be there in the future. Yet claiming at age 62 will mean the lowest possible survivor benefit for your wife because her benefit as your widow will be the amount you are receiving at your death. I'll try to put all this into perspective for you.

Although Social Security is facing some future financial issues, it will never go bankrupt and be unable to pay benefits. The worst that could happen, if Congress takes no action beforehand, would be that benefits will be cut by about 22% if the SS Trust Fund is fully depleted in 2033 (right now, reserves in the Trust Fund are used to supplement SS expenses because SS revenue is currently less than program costs). If that happens, Social Security can only pay out as much as it brings in. But that almost certainly won't happen, because Congress won't permit it to. Congress already knows how to fix Social Security's financial issues - they just currently lack the political will and bipartisan spirit to implement

The Graying Of America: A Trend To 'Dye' For

by John Grimaldi

There are those out there - men and women alike - who dye their hair when it starts to turn gray. It makes them look younger. But among the trendy younger set, a gray, white or salt-and-pepper look is in style, according to Rebecca Weber, CEO of the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC].

Weber cites the publication, Hairstyles Weekly, which notes that, "gray hair has been shunned and touted as 'old people' hair color. But in this year [2022], the hair world is shaking things up a bit and making gray the star of the show!" Not only are more older Americans embracing the natural look of aging, but younger women - and men - are adopting the look using new hair dyes such as Clairol's Professional Pure White Hair Developers for Lightening & Gray Coverage.

Market-researchers have found that more men between the ages of 50 to 64 - 11% -- are dyeing their hair more than ever before for a variety of reasons. For one thing, a majority of women say they find men with gray hair more attractive and that it can give a man an "air of authority," not to mention the fact that "gray hair is generally associated with competence, financial security and coolness," according to the hair experts at Schwarzkopf International.

A Wikipedia report traces the granny hair trend "to fashion designer Jean-Paul Gaultier, whose Autumn/Winter 2011 show featured models in grey Beehives. In Spring 2015, his catwalk show at Paris Fashion Week [featured] silver haired models as did the shows of other fashion designers Chanel and Gareth Pugh."

It is true that health problems can accelerate the graying process and that stress can cause your hair to shed and grow back grayish in color instead of your natural color. However, the experts at WebMD tell us that while "you might blame your stressful job or your unruly teens for your grays ... it's mostly your genes that dictate how early and how

In What Parks Activities Would You Participate?

BETSY REASON
The Times Editor

Would you have an interest in playing in a wiffle ball league on the weekends in the summer?

Would you spend $15 to join a hiking program, and keep track of your miles hiked on park trails and earn rewards?

Would you compete in a scarecrow-decorating contest in October?

These are just a few of the choices in the City of Noblesville's new recreation survey that was emailed out to Noblesville residents this week.

Noblesville Parks' recreational staff is planning future programming and Noblesville residents' feedback is needed to help staff decide what offerings the community would like to see.

Other choices included laser tag in the Annex for $30 to $40 per person Saturday mornings in the summer and a grab-and-go Midland Trace event on May 13 (need more information as to what the event is).

In regards to the ideas listed, Noblesville Main Street has had a scarecrow-decorating contest for several years.

I asked my 15-year-old daughter, and wiffle ball was the only program that she thought might

Wrapping Up Readers' Choice 2022

Readers' Choice is wrapped up for another year, and once again, The Paper's annual promotion to recognize your favorites in a multitude of categories was a huge success.

Back when our company was founded, the staff at The Paper brought Montgomery County this fun and good-natured promotion that features local businesses, people, products and more and gives you, our readers, the opportunity to vote for your favorites. We often joke that this is like Chicago politics and encourage you to vote early and vote often.

You see, this has never been about the rigidity of the process. Instead, it is designed to be an absolutely fun and very positive way for our readers to cast a good light on their favorites. And oh, how you have responded! We annually see ballots that number in the hundreds of thousands - so many in fact that we had to find a way to automate the counting process.

This year, rather than unveil all the winners at one time like we have in the past, we are revealing several categories a day. Today's categories can be found inside and a quick list is also provided here. When the final winners, runner-ups and honorable mentions are revealed, we will compile all of them into one keepsake edition that will stay posted on our website for the entire year.

Lastly, we encourage you to pay attention to the many businesses who are saying thank you with their ads. Without those supporters, local news and specifically your daily edition, wouldn't be here.

Claude Vinton Burtron, Jr June 17, 1945 - March 28, 2022

Claude Vinton Burtron, Jr., age 76, of Sheridan, passed away on Monday morning, March 28, 2022.

Born on June 17, 1945 in Clinton County, Ind., he was the son of the late Claude Vinton Burtron, Sr. and Gladys A. (Honeas) Burtron.

After graduating from Sheridan High School with the Class of 1963, he continued forward with his education, attending both Indiana University in Bloomington and Pentecostal Bible Institute in Tupelo, Mississippi. He was a member of The Bible Church of Sheridan, where he faithfully served as an Honorary Trustee of the Church. He was also an active member of Hinkle Masonic Lodge F&AM #310. He worked for Delco Remy in Anderson, Ind., retiring in 2005 after 40 years of dedicated service to the company. Retirement afforded him more time to devote to his passions and to the things he treasured most in life - service to others, and his family. Service was a constant theme throughout his life. During his early working years, he was an orderly with Riverview Hospital in Noblesville and later worked at the Sheridan Healthcare Center where he became a QMA, advancing his service to the residents. As the years passed, it was soon time for his years of caring for patients to be turned inward toward his family.

As his loving wife's health started to decline, he faithfully saw to Libby's needs - being her advocate, caregiver, and whatever else she needed for him to be at any given moment - a beautiful testament to the love they shared together. After retiring from Delco Remy, he began serving his community as a substitute teacher within the Sheridan School System. Education was very important to both he and his wife Libby. Her work with kindergartners encouraged him to take a leap of faith and try his hand at substitute teaching. He quickly fell in love with both teaching, and the students he worked with - earning him the distinct pleasure of becoming one of the favorite substitute teachers (by both the students and the teachers alike) within the school system.

He also realized the importance of taking some time for yourself to recharge mentally. For him, that meant puttering around his property, gardening and taking great pains to keep his few acres of peace and quiet perfectly manicured and preserved. His hard work attracted the birds, which he very much enjoyed watching. He was also fastidious about his personal appearance; he was always well put-together, especially when it came to his shoes and cologne.

He loved traveling with Libby, and enjoyed their trips to the Amish areas of Ohio. He was a loyal Sheridan Blackhawks fan and he paid attention to current sporting events. Family was a very important part of Claude's life. He was a loving husband and father, but his grandchildren were his pride and joy.

Survivors include his two sons, Anthony W. "Tony" Burtron (Beth) of Westfield, and Jason T. "Todd" Burtron (Tami) of Sheridan; daughter, Alicia A. Amsbury (Danan) of Sheridan; seven grandchildren, Wade Burtron (Alison), Zane Burtron (Francesca), Emme Burtron, Annaka Burtron - Zachery (Nick), Weston Burtron, Isaiah Amsbury and Noah Amsbury; three great grandchildren, Kinley Burtron, Brayden Burtron and Luca Burtron; two brothers, Carl E. Burtron (Elaine) and Rick L. Burtron (Jean Ann); seven sisters, Phyllis A Litteral, Carolyn Biddle, Charlene Haughy, Isabelle B. Cummins (Wesley), Sandra K. Spencer, Janet Wallace (Randy) and Tina Burtron (Ken); and many nieces, nephews, and cousins.

He was preceded in death by his parents; sisters, Kathy Jo Burtron and Mary Lou Pickett; brothers, Robert J. Burtron and Thomas C. Burtron; and by the love of his life, Elizabeth Irene "Libby" Burtron on March 24, 2020.

Masonic Services are scheduled at 2:00 PM, with the Funeral Service immediately following, on Saturday, April 2, 2022, at Kercheval Funeral Home, 306 E. 10th Street, Sheridan, Indiana. Visitation will be held from Noon until the time of service. Burial will follow at Crown View Cemetery in Sheridan. Claude's son, Todd Burtron, will be officiating. Memorial contributions may be presented to the Sheridan Youth Assistance Program online at <http://youthassistance.org/sheridan-donation>, or by mail at Sheridan Youth Assistance, 24185 Hinesley Road, Sheridan, Indiana 46069.

Alecsander Michael Turner

April 12, 1995 - March 28, 2022

Alecsander Michael Turner, 26, of Indianapolis, passed away unexpectedly due to a car accident on Monday, March 28, 2022 in Indianapolis.

He was born on April 12, 1995 in Indianapolis, Ind.

He liked to collect knives and have fun. He was a giving person and loved spending time with family and friends.

Survivors include his mother, Kelly (Parker) Bishop; father, Joseph L. Turner; sister, Holland Coyle; brother, Paul Bishop; nephew, Landon Singleton; grandma, Sandra Parker; and several aunts, uncles, and cousins.

He was preceded in death by his grandparents, Paul Parker, Travis Turner and Leeanna Turner.

Services are scheduled at 6:00 pm on Saturday, April 2, 2022 at Randall & Roberts Funeral Home, 1150 Logan Street in Noblesville, with Rev. Stanley R. Sutton officiating. Visitation will be from 4:00 pm to the time of the service at the funeral home.

Memorial contributions may be made to American Cancer Society PO Box 681405, Indianapolis, IN 46268-1405 www.cancer.org.

Lynn E. Geiger

Oct. 2, 1946 - March 30, 2022

Lynn E. Geiger, 75, of Noblesville, passed away on Wednesday, March 30, 2022 at St. Vincent Hospital in Indianapolis.

He was born on Oct. 2, 1946 to Gilbert and Ruby (Cornelius) Geiger in Noblesville, Ind.

He proudly served his country in the United States Army as a paratrooper during the Vietnam War. He worked for Owens-Illinois glass factory in the hot end. He was a car enthusiast and a history buff, especially the Civil War era. He loved being on the lake and spending time on his houseboat.

Survivors include his sister, Connie Geiger; sister-in-law, Pearl E. Geiger; niece, Sherri Byer and her children, Jason (Nikki) and Jonathon (Kaitlin); nephew, Kenneth (Peggy) Geiger and his children, Kaitlyn, Carli and Madison; and nephew, Brian Geiger and his children, Cassie and Alex.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his brother, Stanley E. Geiger.

Visitation is scheduled from 1:00 pm to 2:00 pm, with services at 2:00 pm, on Sunday, April 3, 2022 at Randall & Roberts Funeral Home, 1150 Logan Street, in Noblesville. Rev. Stanley R. Sutton will officiate. Family and friends may gather at 10:00 am on Monday, April 4, 2022 at Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville for burial.

Memorial contributions may be made to White River Christian Church, 1685 North 10th Street, Noblesville, IN 46060 (www.wrcc.org).

The Farmers Bancorp Frankfort Indiana Announces Results Of Its Tender Offer

The Farmers Bancorp Frankfort Indiana ("Farmers"), the parent holding company of The Farmers Bank, Frankfort, Indiana (the "Bank"), announced today the results of its offer to purchase up to $7.5 Million of shares of its common stock at a purchase price of $54.00 per share (the "Tender Offer"). The Tender Offer expired at 11:59 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, on Thursday, March 31, 2022 (the "Expiration Time").

As of the Expiration Time, Farmers received 146,287 common shares through the Tender Offer, representing approximately 105% of the shares Farmers was willing to purchase. Because the Tender Offer is oversubscribed by 7,398 shares, Farmers will accept validly tendered shares pursuant to the Acceptance Priority Procedures detailed in the Offer to Purchase. In total, Farmers will accept for purchase 138,889 shares at a purchase price of $54.00 per share and will pay an aggregate of $7.5 Million for the tendered shares.

Farmers will transmit payment for shares that were properly tendered as of March 31, 2022 by the Settlement Date of April 5, 2022. Any shares that were not purchased because the Tender Offer was oversubscribed will be returned to the original shareholder in a timely manner.

Karen F. Gregerson, President of Farmers, stated, "We are pleased by the positive response that we have received. Based on the results of the tender offer, we anticipate that will be able to continue our objectives of returning value to our shareholders while providing great personal service and nurturing the communities that we serve."

This press release contains certain forward-looking statements that are based on assumptions and may describe future plans, strategies and expectations of Farmers. Forward-looking statements can be identified by the fact that they do not relate strictly to historical or current facts. They often include words like "believe," "expect," "anticipate," "estimate" and "intend" or future or conditional verbs such as "will," "would," "should," "could" or "may." Certain factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from expected results include the COVID-19 pandemic, changes in the interest rate environment, changes in general economic conditions, legislative and regulatory changes that adversely affect the business of Farmers and the Bank, and changes in the securities markets. Except as required by law, Farmers does not undertake any obligation to update any forward-looking statements to reflect changes in belief, expectations or events.

Water Mains Getting Flushed In Sheridan

Indiana American Water will conduct water main flushing in the Sheridan service area the full week of April 18 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The company conducts the annual maintenance program to assure high-quality water service and to ensure fire hydrants are operational.

According to Senior Operations Superintendent Ryan Smith, "Water main and fire hydrant flushing is an important part of a regular maintenance program for water distribution systems. Indiana American Water consistently meets or exceeds all drinking water standards."

No interruptions in water service are anticipated as a result of the work. Customers may experience a slight drop in water pressure or temporary water discoloration while this program is under way. Customers should refrain from doing laundry during the time of day the flushing program is taking place in or near their neighborhood.

If tap water is discolored, Indiana American Water recommends allowing several cold-water faucets to run for a short time until the water runs clear. Using more than one faucet allows the water to clear more quickly.

Customers with questions should call Indiana

American Water Customer Service at (800) 492-8373.

The water main flushing will be performed by Indiana American Water crews. They will be working out of trucks identified with the company logo. All employees will also have photo ID badges.

About Indiana American Water

the changes needed. But there's little doubt that they will fix the issue before allowing an across-the-board benefit cut to over 65 million beneficiaries (because seniors vote). FYI, there was $2.9 trillion in reserves in the Social Security Trust Fund at the end of 2020. I don't recommend you make your Social Security claiming decision based on fear of the program going bankrupt - it won't. Even if Congress doesn't act and a benefit cut is imposed in 2033 (which is highly unlikely), a 22% cut to your age 62 benefit amount would be more painful than a 22% cut to your benefit at your full retirement age (FRA) which would be about 30% higher than your age 62 benefit amount. The longer you wait to claim, the higher your benefit, and your wife's survivor benefit, will be - even in the unlikely event of a later cut in benefits. Instead, I suggest you make your claiming decision based only upon your personal circumstances. If you wish to increase your wife's survivor benefit, then waiting longer to claim is the way to do that. If you retire from working at age 62, Social Security's earnings test won't apply to you (the earnings test limits how much you can earn while collecting early SS benefits), thus you can certainly claim at 62 if you so wish. But it's important to consider the consequences of claiming early (including a lower survivor benefit for your widow) and make a decision based on facts, not fear of Social Security going bankrupt - because it won't. and short-term conditions is to take medication as prescribed - the right dose at the right time in the right way. Try using a pill container or a dose reminder or taking your medication as part of your daily routine, such as brushing your teeth. Talk to your pharmacist about the best time to take your medication. You should also consider ongoing home delivery - like that provided by Express Scripts Pharmacy - so you never run out of medication due to a missed pharmacy trip. Express Scripts Pharmacy customers can also enroll eligible medications in an automatic refill program. Your prescriptions will be refilled at the right time, so your medicine will always be on hand.

Take your medications safely. Taking medication the wrong way or without knowledge of their effects can be dangerous. Read and understand the instructions printed on your prescription label, so you can be sure you're taking your medicine exactly as intended. For example, taking certain medications on an empty stomach if you're supposed to take it with a meal can reduce their effectiveness. You'll also want to be sure you don't mix your medication with certain other drugs or alcohol, or even engage in specific activities, like driving, if the label warns you against doing so. Clean out your medicine cabinet. Many people find they're more likely to take medications properly if they have a well-organized medicine cabinet. Go through and properly dispose of expired medications or those you're no longer taking. For more information on discarding expired medications, visit express-scripts.com/askyourpharmacist. Check-in with your doctor. Your health can change, and your prescriptions should change along with it. Schedule time at least once annually to go over everything you're being prescribed. It's a good chance to talk to your doctor about what's working, what's not and what might need adjustments. In turn, keeping all medications at a single pharmacy when possible allows your pharmacist to have the most accurate information to help keep you safe from drug interactions or medication issues. Be sure your physician knows which pharmacy you use. Update your insurance information. Ensure you have updated insurance information accessible in case you need to reference it. Replace old cards with new ones as soon as you can to save time and reduce confusion when filling prescriptions. For more medication pharmacy care resources and information, visit www.esrx.com/AskYourPharmacist. With a few tweaks to your pharmacy routine, you can take better care of your health and improve your overall wellness.

quickly it happens. So if either of your parents had a full head of gray hair in their 30s, there's a good chance you will, too." According to MedlinePlus, the color of your hair "is determined by the amount of a pigment called melanin in hair. An abundance of one type of melanin, called eumelanin, gives people black or brown hair. An abundance of another pigment, called pheomelanin, gives people red hair." Hydrogen peroxide is an oxygen-based bleach that is sometimes used to bleach hair. And guess what, hair cells actually and naturally produce their own hydrogen peroxide and the older you get the more of it is produced. Researchers believe that the hydrogen peroxide that our bodies produce is what turns our hair gray and then white. Trendy as the graying of America might be, there are still those who hope and pray that science will come up with a way for them to retain the youthful color of their hair or a way to reverse the graying process. Fear not. The Scientific American reports that research has emerged showing that there may be a way to do just that. The publication quotes Matt Kaerberlein, a biogerontologist at the University of Washington, who says there is convincing evidence that on a hair by hair basis graying is actually reversible. "What we're learning is that, not just in hair but in a variety of tissues, the biological changes that happen with age are, in many cases, reversible."

New and Improved Cherry Flavor Courtesy of the Petunia Flower

That cherry flavor you enjoy in candy and soda is likely a combination of aromatic and flavor compounds discovered through the study of plants in laboratories far from cherry trees. It and the sweet scent of your almond extract may actually be courtesy of a petunia flower.

Some flavors and aromas are more elusive than others, and a team of Purdue University researchers recently found the molecular recipe for one of the most coveted compounds by the flavor industry: benzaldehyde. It may not sound tasty, but it is key to some of the most popular flavors including cherry, almond and raspberry. It is second only to vanillin in terms of economic value to the food industry.

"Benzaldehyde is what gives that pleasant almond-like scent and is part of the aroma of many fruits," said Natalia Dudareva, Distinguished Professor of Biochemistry in Purdue's College of Agriculture, who led the team. "That scent attracts pollinators and, in addition to those fruits, it is found in other plants, including petunias."

Biochemists track down the molecular recipes, called biosynthetic pathways, that make these compounds and allow them to be bottled into different flavors for the products we enjoy. When steps in the molecular recipe are missing, chemicals outside of the natural processes are used in commercial production, she explained.

"When chemical reactions are added in to fill the gaps, it can be a problem," said Dudareva, who also is director of Purdue's Center for Plant Biology. "It is much better and safer to use an entirely natural pathway to a flavor compound, but it is difficult to discover all of the steps. Benzaldehyde has an especially puzzling biosynthetic pathway, and it wasn't completely revealed until now."

Dudareva and her team studied the scent of petunia flowers to discover the molecular recipe for benzaldehyde. The work is detailed in a paper in Nature Communications, and a patent on the process is pending.

"The goal is to have the natural process found in plants, and this discovery makes that possible for a very important flavor compound," Dudareva said. "The alternative to synthesis is truly extracting a compound from plants, but only 1.5% of the benzaldehyde in worldwide production is obtained this way."

The biosynthetic pathway will likely be genetically transferred to yeast or other microbes to incorporate it into the fermentation process widely used in food and beverage production, she said.

The team found that synthesis of benzaldehyde in petunia petals involves an enzyme consisting of two subunits that must combine in equal amounts to activate, said Xing-Qi Huang, an author of the paper and postdoctoral researcher in Dudareva's lab.

"The gene directly responsible and enzyme needed for benzaldehyde synthesis were a mystery," he said. "We tried newer techniques, but it took a classical approach to reveal it."

This was because of the enzyme's uncommon need for two subunits to function, or heterodimeric structure, he said.

Because of this, earlier analysis methods looking for a single component appeared to fail.

"We estimate the size of the protein we are hunting in addition to other things we have learned about the pathway," he said. "We weren't finding a good indication of a single protein within that estimate. However, we noticed the presence of two components of half the size of our estimate, and we thought maybe there are two subunits."

Further proteomic and genetic testing confirmed their idea and revealed the genes involved. Their work found the protein subunits have an interesting structure, as well. They form what is called the Rossmann fold, named after the late Purdue professor and renowned structural biologist Michael Rossmann.

"Purdue is all over the petunia," Dudareva said. "This discovery is the most recent. We now have mapped out almost all of the genes and pathways responsible for petunia scent compounds. To also see within it proteins that embody a structure discovered by and named after a fellow faculty member adds a special connection. It is beautiful."

In addition to Dudareva and Huang, Renjiuguo Li and Jianxin Fu participated in the research and are co-authors of the paper.

The National Science Foundation (IOS-1655438) and the USDA National Institute of Food and Agriculture (Hatch Project number 17784) funded this research.

Start This Year's Garden Preparation with a Soil Test

Growing a beautiful landscape starts with the soil under your feet. The best place to start building a healthy soil foundation is with a soil test. The results will tell you what type and how much, if any, fertilizer is needed for the plants you are growing. Using the right type and amount of fertilizer is also good for your budget and the environment.

Test the soil when starting a new garden or one that is struggling. Since soil and fertilization practices vary greatly, collect and submit separate samples for each garden bed or landscape area to be tested. Repeat every four or five years to check on your garden maintenance.

You can take a soil test anytime the ground is not frozen and you have not recently fertilized. Early spring and fall are good times since you can make needed changes when preparing your garden.

Contact your local Extension service for details on submitting a sample. If they don't have a soil testing lab, they will likely recommend a state certified lab that tests home lawn and garden soils, or you can search the internet for a certified lab near you.

Taking a soil test sample is simple. Use a clean trowel and bucket to gather a soil sample.

Slide away any mulch or debris on the soil surface. Use a trowel and remove a slice of soil that is four to six inches deep and right where the plant roots grow.

Take several samples throughout the garden you want to test. Collect samples from each edge and several throughout the middle of the bed. Mix them together and place about a cup of the soil in a plastic bag or the one provided by the lab. Be sure to complete and include the submission form. This includes a place to list the types of plants that will be grown in the area being sampled. The lab uses this and test results to make the fertilization recommendations. Send the sample and form together to the soil testing lab.

Allow several weeks for the test to be completed and the results to be returned. Most basic soil tests report the amount of phosphorus and potassium in the soil. Phosphorus promotes flowering, fruiting, and root development. Potassium promotes drought tolerance, disease resistance and hardiness. Many soils are high to excessive in these plant nutrients. You cannot remove the excess but should avoid adding to the problem. Soil test reports can help you do just that.

Most labs do not measure the amount of nitrogen in the soil since the levels change quickly and are not easy to test accurately. Instead, they make nitrogen recommendations based on the plants you are or will grow in the area being tested.

Soil pH is also measured in most soil tests. Acidic soils with pH below neutral (7.0) are often referred to as sour, while alkaline soils with a pH above 7.0 are called sweet. Soil pH influences which nutrients in the soil are available for the plants to absorb and utilize for growth. Blueberries, azaleas, and red maples are examples of acid-loving plants. Clematis, crabapples and spireas are a few of the alkaline tolerant plants.

Always use soil test results when trying to change the pH. Lime is used to sweeten soils while sulfur is often used to lower pH. Using too much or the wrong amendment can negatively impact the health and productivity of your garden. Undoing misapplications can take years to correct. Growing plants suited to the soil pH may be the best solution for those with acceptable, although not ideal, soil pH.

Include soil testing when planning new gardens or helping those that are struggling. Understanding your soil can help you create a strong foundation important to the health, longevity and beauty of your gardens and landscapes.

"The Outlaw Music Festival Tour has always been about family and friends coming together for a great day of music and fun, and with the amazing group of artists joining us, this year promises to be our most special Outlaw Tour to date. I just can't wait to get back on the road again" says Willie Nelson.

"Our annual Outlaw Music Festival Tour has grown to become this incredible family of artists that deliver must-see performances every night", said Keith Wortman (Co-Founder Outlaw Music Festival Tour), we are honored to present these once in a lifetime lineups all over the country."

Mike's Hard Lemonade Seltzer will also be joining the 2022 Outlaw Music Festival Tour as the "Official Hard Seltzer" hosting pop up experiences, giveaways and more at select dates.

The inaugural Outlaw Music Festival made its debut in 2016 in Scranton, PA. The sold-out show was so well received that Blackbird and Nelson have developed it into one of North America's biggest annual touring franchises. Musicians such as Robert Plant, Neil Young, Bob Dylan, Van Morrison, Eric Church, Bonnie Raitt, Luke Combs, Chris Stapleton, Sheryl Crow, Sturgill Simpson, The Avett Brothers and many more have been a part of the Outlaw Tour, sharing unforgettable music memories and unique vendor villages with local food, drinks and shopping in Live Nation amphitheaters across the country.

Buddy Guy & John Hiatt Show at TCU Amphitheater in Indianapolis July 27

Multi-Grammy Award winning blues icon Buddy Guy and ten-time Grammy-nominated Americana/folk/blues collective John Hiatt & the Goners featuring Sonny Landreth will hit the road together this year. The duo will stop in downtown Indianapolis at TCU Amphitheater at White River State Park on Wednesday, July 27, 2022. Tickets go on sale to the general public on Friday, March 25 at 10 AM local time at www.livenation.com.

The title of Buddy Guy's latest album says it all: The Blues Is Alive and Well. The legendary blues artist's eighteenth solo LP and follow-up to 2015's Born to Play Guitar showcases his raw and unadulterated sound, its fifteen tracks a true pleasure for aficionados and genre newcomers alike. The record is arriving on the heels of a spate of high visibility for the 83-year-old performer: at the 2016 Grammys, he picked up a trophy for "Best Blues Album" honoring Born to Play Guitar, and that same year he hit the road for a U.S. tour opening for Jeff Beck. A truly restless and energetic performer, The Blues Is Alive and Well is the latest triumph in an already-legendary career.

And even as Guy pushes forward with his astounding career, he's careful not to forget his late contemporaries who inspired him along the way. "I went to sleep yesterday and woke up and all the great blues players are no longer with us. Muddy, Wolf, B.B.—they're all gone. Before they passed away, when they were in their prime, we used to have a drink and a laugh and talk about how when one of us is gone, the others have to keep it going. I'm trying to do something to keep this music that I love so well alive." And with The Blues Is Alive and Well, it's clear that the music—and Guy himself—isn't going away anytime soon.

John Robert Hiatt is one of America's most respected and influential singer-songwriters. "You know how writing goes for me," John Hiatt says, offering a glimpse into his creative process. "I get a couple of lines going, and then I just tag along as the songs start to reveal themselves. You've just gotta jump inside and take the ride." Hiatt has been on that ride — as have we all, tagging along right beside him — for more than four decades now. In fact, since the release of his 1974 debut, Hangin' Around the Observatory, rarely has more than a year or two passed without a new Hiatt collection hitting the shelves. Since 2000 he's been on a remarkable late-career run, releasing nine acclaimed studio albums and embarking on numerous tours in the U.S. and abroad.

Bon Jovi Gives Local Bands Chance to Be Opening Act at Indianapolis Show April 19

Rock and Roll Hall of Fame band Bon Jovi announced today the chance for local bands across the country to perform on the highly anticipated Bon Jovi 2022 Tour, produced by Live Nation and sponsored by Hampton Water. Bands are encouraged to submit an audition video of original music for the chance to open for the band at a concert stop on the tour. One local band will be selected for each tour date, including the tour stop in Indianapolis on Tuesday, April 19, 2022 at Gainbridge Fieldhouse. For more information and to upload a submission, visit www.bonjovi.com. Submission deadline is Friday, April 8.

The Bon Jovi 2022 Tour will launch this spring in arenas nationwide. Tickets are on sale now at LiveNation.com.

Bon Jovi spent much of the past two years recording and releasing new music, while also creating livestream performance content and launching Bon Jovi radio for their fans. Bon Jovi's 2020 was one of the most critically acclaimed album releases of that year with USA Today calling it "BRILLIANT" and Associated Press highlighting the depth of lyrics within the songs that "chronicle pain, loss, fear and death from the coronavirus, police killings and mass shootings."

Bon Jovi remains one of the most prolific and sought-after tour tickets in live music today, and getting back on tour was a top priority for the band. "We have all missed touring and we know that nothing can replace the energy of a live show for the fans or the band," said Jon Bon Jovi.

Over an illustrious career spanning more than three decades since their formation in 1983, Bon Jovi has earned their place among global rock royalty and was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame as well as the Songwriters Hall of Fame. With over 130 million albums sold worldwide, and extensive catalog of hit anthems, thousands of concerts performed in more than 50 countries for more than 35 million fans, and ticket grosses well over $1 billion around the world in the last decade alone. Bon Jovi is the consummate rock and roll band.

Rock Supergroup Kings of Chaos, Grammy Winner Rick Springfield to Headline Carb Day Concert May 27

Rock's ultimate supergroup Kings of Chaos and legendary Grammy Award winner Rick Springfield will co-headline the Miller Lite Carb Day Concert on Friday, May 27 at Indianapolis Motor Speedway, performing some of the biggest hits for generations.

Legendary funk and R&B band Morris Day and the Time will open the concert, followed by Springfield and Kings of Chaos. The show starts at 3:30 p.m. on the Miller Lite Stage inside Turn 3 of the IMS oval, a new location this year.

Tickets are on sale now at IMS.com, by calling 800-822-INDY (4639) or 317-492-6700, or by visiting the IMS Ticket Office at the IMS Administration Building.

General admission tickets start at just $30. A limited number of concert pit tickets that include general admission are available for $50. A very limited supply of exclusive VIP platform tickets also is available for $250, including concert pit access, snacks, two complimentary drinks and dedicated bars. Ticket prices will increase as the concert draws closer, so fans are encouraged to buy now.

All general admission, concert pit and VIP Deck concert tickets include admission to the concert and to on-track activities that day at IMS, which include the final practice for the 106th Indianapolis 500 presented by Gainbridge and the INDYCAR Pit Stop Challenge.

"It will be fantastic to see fans enjoying live music on Miller Lite Carb Day for the first time since 2019," IMS President J. Douglas Boles said. "As everyone comes back home again to IMS this May, Kings of Chaos, Rick Springfield, and Morris Day and the Time will shift Race Weekend into top gear by performing hit after hit at one of the biggest parties of the year in the Midwest."

Kings of Chaos, formed by Grammy-winning and Rock & Roll Hall of Fame member Matt Sorum (Guns N' Roses, Velvet Revolver), features a killer lineup of rock and roll royalty performing the biggest hit songs from the bands that made them global superstars. The band is comprised of Sorum, Sebastian Bach (Skid Row), Jack Blades (Night Ranger, Damn Yankees), John Waite (Bad English, The Babys, solo), Lita Ford (The Runaways, solo), Gilby Clarke (Guns N' Roses), Warren DeMartini (Ratt) and Sean McNabb (Great White, Dokken).

The band's setlist includes such hits as "Sister

Christian," "(You Can Still) Rock in America" and "Don't Tell Me You Love Me" (Night Ranger), "Youth Gone Wild" and "I Remember You" (Skid Row), "Change," "Missing You," "Midnight Rendezvous" and "Head First" (Waite/The Babys), "Kiss Me Deadly," "Gotta Let Go" and "Cherry Bomb" (Ford/The Runaways), "Paradise City" and "Knockin' on Heaven's Door" (Guns N' Roses), and "Round and Round" and "Lay It Down" (Ratt).

Over the past four decades, Australian-born Springfield has worn many hats as an entertainer and performer. He's the creator of some of the finest power-pop of the '80s, a Grammy Award-winning singer, songwriter and musician who has sold 25 million albums and scored 17 U.S. Top 40 hits. In 2019, Springfield released his 17th studio album, "Orchestrating My Life," a career-defining revisit of a lifetime of hits. The album is a collection all the hits the public loves rerecorded with an electrifying mix of rock and accompanied by a full orchestra. It also includes a new song, Irreplaceable, a song dedicated to Springfield's mother, who passed away in 2017.

Indianapolis Immigrant Welcome Center Announces Signature Annual Fundraiser 'Live Local Think Global' at the Cyrus Place April 21

Immigrant Welcome Center (IWC) is pleased to announce that tickets for its signature annual fundraising event Live Local Think Global (LLTG) scheduled for April 21, 2022 are now on sale. The event brings together business and community leaders, philanthropists, and nonprofit professionals, donors, and champions to support the organization's mission of helping immigrants thrive in Central Indiana.

LLTG 2022 will be hosted at The Cyrus Place (237 N East Street) located in downtown Indianapolis.

Built by a German born architect in 1882, The Cyrus Place is owned and operated by a long-time Indianapolis resident and immigrant from Iran, Cyrus Jafari.

This year's event will include food tastings, cultural experiences, henna (mehndi) application, music, salsa dancing, and storytelling. All funds raised through this fundraiser support IWC programs that are designed to address the needs of our immigrant neighbors. The event will start at 6 p.m.

"We are proud of our diverse community," said

Gurinder Hohl, Chief Executive Officer of IWC. "Our mission is to help every immigrant who calls Indiana home to thrive. We believe that when immigrants thrive, our community thrives."

In addition to individual tickets, multiple levels of sponsorship are available for businesses, foundations, organizations, and individuals who are interested in supporting this event and IWC's mission. Tickets and sponsorship details are accessible on the IWC website at immigrantwelcomecenter.org/events/.
