➤ TODAY'S VERSE

Ecclesiastes 3:14 I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it.

➤ FACES of HAMILTON COUNTY
People who call our community their own.

What makes Rachelle Byerly smile? "Thinking of my grandkids," said the former Hamilton County 10-year 4-H'er who has been volunteering at the Hamilton County 4-H Fair for more than 40 years. She was found with her husband, Dan, on Sunday afternoon in the Rabbit Tent preparing for the Fair's annual Pet Parade, which attracts kids and their pets in creative costumes. Besides organizing the Pet Parade (for the past 25 years), she is a busy volunteer during and before and after the Fair, which ran Thursday through Monday at the Hamilton County 4-H Fairgrounds in Noblesville. She is on the 10-year member board, has coordinated the 4-H Fair entertainment for 40 years and the Sunday gospel service, organizes food for Fair work day volunteers, and is on the county's 4-H scholarship committee and has previously been on the scholarship selection committee. She has served three terms on the Hamilton County 4-H Council. She has served on the Extension Homemakers board. She has been a 4-H leader for Fishers 4-Leaf Clovers 4-H Club. A Tipton resident, she grew up east of Noblesville, was a member of the Jolly Rogers 4-H Club in Fall Creek Township and graduated in 1976 from Hamilton Southeastern High School in Fishers. What was her favorite 4-H project when she was a youth? "We showed pigs; that was always fun." She has two sons, Nathaniel Byerly, 39, and Derek Byerly, 35, who are also 10-year 4-H'ers in Hamilton County, and both are married, and she has a total six grandkids, and they all live nearby. Her favorite time of the year? "Summertime." She especially loves July and being at the 4-H Fair. So what's her favorite Fair food? I love pork loin."

Gracie Fisher is Supreme Showman in 50th Annual 4-H Fair Competition

BETSY REASON
The Times Editor

Tears flowed on Monday night as Gracie Fisher hugged her family and friends and clutched to her large wooden award plaque after being named the 2022 Hamilton County Supreme Showmanship Grand Champion. For county 4-H'ers who show livestock, Supreme Showmanship is the be-all and end-all in 4-H.

The 50th annual contest took place at the Hamilton County 4-H Fair in Noblesville.

"I'm so proud and so excited and thankful. This is it. It's over now," said the 2022 Hamilton Southeastern High School graduate and daughter of Jon and Tracy Fisher.

Three times is a charm for the 18-year-old, a 10-year Hamilton County 4-H'er, who has been preparing for this moment for several years, earning Reserve Supreme Showmanship in 2019 and 2020.

The From Time to Thyme Virtual Circus

PAULA DUNN
From Time to Thyme

This week I'm introducing yet another column spinoff — the "From Time to Thyme Virtual Circus."

Grab some peanuts and popcorn, and follow me into the virtual big top to see the Carnivorous Mouse, Killer Turtle, Daredevil Dog and Fiddling Bear!

Cue the circus music! (You know the tune I mean.)

Our first act appeared in a November 22, 1929 Noblesville Daily Ledger article that begins "Carnivorous mice are prevalent in Sheridan . . ." (and you thought I was kidding about the "carnivorous" part!)

The Ledger reported that Mr. and Mrs. Vern Gray of Sheridan had just entered their car, intending to take a female visitor home, when the women began screaming that the vehicle had been invaded by a mouse.

As they scrambled to escape, Mr. Gray scoffed, "It isn't a mouse. How could it get in here?"

Amanda Smith, Superintendent of Natural Resources & Education for Hamilton County Parks & Recreation, shared the many the amenities available through Hamilton County Parks has to offer families through the summer and fall at last week's Cicero Kiwanis breakfast meeting. She is one of Hamilton County's most beloved ambassadors for all things nature and education.

Smith Gives Cicero Kiwanis Members Many Reasons to Take a Walk in the Park

Sorry Simon and Garfunkel, it's NOT all happening at the zoo. That's so '60's. Today parks, particularly Hamilton County parks, are where "it's at!" Just ask Amanda Smith, Superintendent of Natural Resources & Education for Hamilton County Parks & Recreation. She'll tell you, as she did Kiwanis members last Saturday, that area parks offer a wide range of activities sure to interest various ages and degrees of recreational enthusiasm.

Summer camp, nature programs, and a nature center are available at Cool Creek Park in Westfield, with the center open 7 days a week. Closer to home, Strawtown Kotewi Park also houses a nature center, programming, trails for hiking and horseback riding, and a lake for kayaking. Rich in history, this 750-acre park also offers adventure experiences, such as zip lining, archery, and a winter snow-tubing hill.

Amanda highlighted many activities and programs at county parks, recommending a tour of Coxhall Mansion for adults and Cool Creek's "Haunt on the Prairie" for young children. She was most enthusiastic, however, about the county's nature programs, rookery, and recently acquired properties on which new plant species were found. That seems a "natural" for someone who majored in Natural Resources and Environmental Education at Ball State University. Amanda loves to share that knowledge and works to help others understand that natural habitats include our front and backyards!

The Chatterbox newsletter is a wonderful way to see what Hamilton County parks offer. Hard copies are available at the park office in Noblesville and view a pdf online. Just follow this link: <https://www.hamiltoncounty.in.gov/DocumentCenter/View/847/New-Chatterbox-Leisure-Guide-PDF?b-idId=>

IN THE HAMILTON SUPERIOR COURT
ROOM NO. 2
CAUSE NO. 29D02-2207-AD-978
STATE OF INDIANA )
COUNTY OF HAMILTON )SS: )
IN THE MATTER OF THE ADOPTION OF ) NATHAN REVILLA MCNEELY, )
a minor child )
NOTICE OF ADOPTION
(Grandparent)
Notice is hereby given to Joycelyn Revilla (spelling uncertain) that a petition for adoption has been filed in the Hamilton Superior Court, Room No. 2, regarding Nathan Revilla McNeely (the "Child") by the spouse of the biological mother of the Child. This notice is required by Indiana Code ("IC") 31-19-2.5-3(a)(3). You are receiving this notice because you may be a grandparent of the Child. As a grandparent, you may have the right to file a petition in court to establish or protect grandparent visitation rights. However, IC 31-17-5-3(b) provides that such a petition must be filed prior to the date a decree of adoption is entered. It is for that reason that you are receiving this notice.
In order to protect any rights of grandparent visitation, which you may have, you should contact your own attorney without delay. Failure to act on your part could cause you to lose your right of grandparent visitation, if such a right exists.
This notice applies to you even if the parent(s) of the Child have voluntarily allowed you to visit. Only court ordered visitation is protected, if at all.
Pursuant to IC 31-19-4.5-1.5, a notice required under IC 31-19-2.5-3 (a)(3) is limited to the issue of visitation and may not be used to contest the adoption. This notice complies with the Indiana Code but does not exhaustively set forth a person's legal obligations under the Indiana adoption statutes. A person being served with this notice should consult the Indiana adoption statutes and their own legal counsel.

WHEREAS, the Midland Trace public recreational trail offers an important entrance to the City of Noblesville from the west; and

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Common Council of the City of Noblesville, Indiana ("Council") that:

Section 1: Incorporation. The above recitals are incorporated herein by reference as though fully set forth herein.

Section 2: Improvement Defined. "Improvement" as used in this Ordinance means any alteration to land or any other physical construction on the land.

Section 3: Compliance with the SR 32 Overlay. All development in the SR 32 Overlay area must comply with the SR 32 Overlay. In the event some development is not governed by the SR 32 Overlay or is not otherwise subject to the Noblesville Planning Department's ordinary Improvement Location Permitting process, the property owner and/or developer may not construct any Improvement on a parcel of property that abuts the Midland trace public recreational trail or is within 600 feet from the boundary of the Midland Trace public recreational trail (which ever distance is greater) unless it first obtains a permit from the Noblesville Common Council as set forth herein.

Section 4: Permit Application. The Mayor or his designee shall prepare a permit application form seeking at least the following information from any person, corporation, business, publicly held trust, or any other entity seeking to construct any Improvement that is not governed by the SR 32 Overlay or is not otherwise subject to the Noblesville Planning Department's ordinary Improvement Location Permitting process on a parcel of property that abuts the Midland trace public recreational trail or is within 600 feet from the boundary of the Midland Trace public recreational trail (which ever distance is greater):

- Name of Applicant; Location of Proposed Improvement; Description of Proposed Improvement; How the Proposed Improvement Will Minimize Impact to the Midland Trace public recreational trail; Any other information the Mayor or his designee determines is necessary; The City may charge a reasonable fee not to exceed $300 to any applicant seeking to apply for such permit.

Section 5: Within ninety (90) days after receipt of the application, the Mayor or his designee shall submit a written report to the Common Council with a recommendation on whether to approve or not approve the requested Improvement. Factors the Mayor shall consider in making such a recommendation are as follows:

- 1. Whether the applicant has proposed the least intrusive means of constructing the proposed Improvement;
2. Whether the Improvement as proposed endangers the public health, safety, or general welfare of the community (and in particular those using or living along the Midland Trace public recreational trail), and how;
3. Whether the applicant has taken reasonable measures to mitigate any potential dangers to the public health, safety, or general welfare of the community, and if so, what are those measures;
4. Whether the applicant has considered the aesthetic impact of their proposed Improvement on the surrounding property, and particularly to that area along, under, upon and across the Midland Trace public recreational trail;
5. Whether there are alternate means or locations to construct the proposed Improvement; and
6. Cost benefit analysis weighing other alternatives to the proposed Improvement (if any) with the Improvement as proposed.

Section 6: Council Considers Permit. Within sixty (60) days of receiving the written recommendation from the Mayor or his designee, the Common Council shall hold a public hearing wherein it shall receive information from the Mayor (or his designee), the applicant, and any member of the public in favor of or opposed to the Improvement. After the closing of the public hearing the Common Council may approve, deny, or continue the consideration of the permit for a period of not more than thirty (30) days. The Common Council may also place reasonable restrictions on any permit. In determining whether to approve or deny the permit the Common Council shall consider the following factors:

- 1. Whether the applicant has proposed the least intrusive means of constructing the proposed Improvement;
2. Whether the Improvement as proposed endangers the public health, safety, or general welfare of the community (and in particular those using or living along the Midland Trace public recreational trail), and how;
3. Whether the applicant has taken reasonable measures to mitigate any potential dangers to the public health, safety, or general welfare of the community, and if so, what are those measures;
4. Whether the applicant has considered the aesthetic impact of their proposed Improvement on the surrounding property, and particularly to that area along, under, upon and across the Midland Trace public recreational trail;
5. Whether there are alternate means or locations to construct the proposed Improvement; and
6. Cost benefit analysis weighing other alternatives to the proposed Improvement (if any) with the Improvement as proposed.

Section 7: Violations. It shall be a violation of this Ordinance to construct any improvement on a parcel of property that abuts the Midland trace public recreational trail or is within 600 feet from the boundary of the Midland Trace public recreational trail (which ever distance is greater) without first either (1) complying with the SR 32 Overlay; (2) obtaining an Improvement Location Permit; or (3) obtaining a permit under this Ordinance. For the avoidance of any doubt, any public utility assets that are not owned and operated by the City of Noblesville must first obtain a permit under this Ordinance before constructing any improvement.

Section 8: Penalties. Any violation of this Ordinance shall be subject to the following penalties:

- 1. Anyone who violates any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined up to $2,500 per violation;
2. Anyone who violates the terms of this ordinance a subsequent time(s) shall be fined up to $7,500. Each day of non-compliance with this Ordinance (including making an Improvement to property without a permit) shall be considered a subsequent violation; and
3. Anyone found by a court to have violated this Ordinance shall be subject to, and responsible for the City's attorneys' fees, costs, and/or other necessary expenses.

Section 9: Severability and Savings. The provisions of this Ordinance are severable. In the event any one or more of the provisions contained in this Ordinance should be held invalid, illegal, or unenforceable in any respect, the validity, legality, and enforceability of the remaining provisions contained herein shall not in any way be affected or impaired and shall remain in full force and effect. In the event that the distance from the Midland Trace public recreational trail is held to be invalid, illegal, or unenforceable in any respect, a separate distance being the greatest that is enforceable shall be inserted for the distance established in this Ordinance.

Section 10: Conflict. All ordinances or parts thereof in conflict with the terms and conditions of this Ordinance are hereby repealed and replaced to the extent of conflict. This Ordinance does not alter or amend the SR 32 Overlay which shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 11: Effective Date. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage in compliance with Ind. Code § 36-3-4-14.

ALL OF WHICH IS ADOPTED this 28th day of June 2022, by the Common Council of the City of Noblesville, Indiana.

Eunice Trotter Named as Director of Indiana Landmarks' New Black Heritage Preservation Program

Indiana Landmarks welcomes Eunice Trotter as director of the statewide organization's new Black Heritage Preservation Program. Trotter will assume the new role beginning September 1, 2022.

A longtime journalist, historian, and community organizer, Trotter brings more than 30 years of experience focused on communications, research, advocacy, and mentorship. In her new position, she will coordinate a broad initiative to identify, save, and celebrate places significant to Indiana's Black history.

"We couldn't be more pleased to have Eunice join our staff," says Indiana Landmarks President Marsh Davis. "Her experience and passion will be powerful assets as we seek to expand Indiana Landmarks' work in Black heritage preservation."

A native Hoosier with roots in Indiana dating back to the 1700s, Trotter began studying Black history as a teenage intern at the Indianapolis Recorder, one of the oldest African American weeklies in the nation. She went on to own, edit, and publish the Recorder from 1987 to 1991. Trotter has worked as a reporter and contributing writer for newspapers and publications in Indiana, Florida, New York, and California. She served as the first Black editor at the Indianapolis Star and was inducted into the Indiana Journalism Hall of Fame in 2017. Trotter's award-winning book, "Black in Indiana," details the history of Mary Bateman Clark, her great-great-grandmother, whose 1821 Indiana Supreme Court case resulted in a precedent-setting decision against indentured servitude in Indiana. In 2016, Trotter received the Indiana Historical Society's Dorothy Riker Hoosier Historian Award, honoring historians who make distinguished contributions to the field of historical scholarship.

Most recently Trotter has worked in public relations as owner of her own communications and media relations firm, and as senior communications specialist for American Senior Communities. She has served on boards and committees of several organizations, including the Indiana Debate Commission, the Indiana Journalism Hall of Fame, the Kurt Vonnegut Museum and Library, and the Indiana Remembrance Coalition.

Indiana Landmarks' Black Heritage Preservation Program aims to expand the work of the organization's African American Landmarks Committee, established in 1992 to help identify and save historic African American sites.

Among other goals, the new program will bolster efforts to recognize Black heritage by identifying places that should be listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Another key element of the program will be building sustainable futures for Black heritage sites through new funding and strengthened support for local partners.

Indiana Landmarks' Black Heritage Preservation Program is funded by a $5 million grant from Lilly Endowment Inc., and generous commitments from private donors and the National Trust for Historic Preservation's African American Cultural Heritage Action Fund.

Rokita Secures Third Pro-Life Court Victory Since Dobbs Decision

A U.S. district court has vacated a judgment against an Indiana law prohibiting abortions sought on the basis of the unborn child's race, sex or disability.

Attorney General Todd Rokita headed the effort in this third court victory since the Supreme Court Dobbs decision.

"There is something particularly repugnant about discriminating against a child because of his or her race, sex or disability," Attorney General Rokita said. "To choose to end a child's life on that basis while he or she is still in the womb is especially tragic. Hoosiers can be grateful that Indiana is now free to enforce a law rooted in common sense, compassion and justice."

On July 7, Rokita

Attorney General Todd Rokita

achieved another pro-life legal win when a federal district court granted his motion to lift an injunction on dismemberment abortions, which occur well into an unborn baby's development.

Then, on July 11, a U.S. appellate court vacated judgments in the Whole Woman's Health Alliance v. Rokita case that had invalidated several other Indiana laws.

Hamilton County Supreme Showmanship Grand Champion Gracie Fisher, 18, Noblesville, a 2022 Hamilton Southeastern High School graduate, poses on Monday for a photo after the 50th annual 4-H Fair competition with her parents, Jon and Tracy, and brother, Jack.

farm in the Noblesville/Fishers area, where her family raises Dairy Cattle, Beef Cattle, Pygmy Goats and Sheep.

In 2019, she was named Hamilton County's Supreme Showmanship Reserve Champion, representing Dairy Cattle.

In 2020, she was named Hamilton County Supreme Showmanship Reserve Champion, representing Beef Cattle (which was postponed until the beginning of the 2021 Fair due to the COVID-19 pandemic.)

In 2020, she was also named Hamilton County Royal Showmanship Grand Champion, representing Pygmy goats.

She said all of the experience helped her be better prepared for this year's contest.

On Monday afternoon at the 2022 4-H Fair, Fisher won Senior Beef Showman, which qualified her to represent the Beef Cattle in Monday evening's Supreme Showmanship, during which she earned Supreme Showmanship Grand Champion.

The Supreme Showmanship contest, celebrating its 50th year, has a purpose, which is to give Senior Showmanship winners an incentive to master showmanship, not only of their own animal but of seven species: beef, dairy, dairy goat, horse, meat goat, sheep and swine.

During the competition, spectators fill the show arena to cheer on their favorite showmen (This year, all seven Supreme contestants were females), who compete with the seven different animal species, for which they were earlier deemed top shown.

Royal Showmanship works the same but with six small animal breeds that include dog, cat, rabbit, llama, poultry, and pygmy goat.

The competitions put the best of the best in the show arena. Contestants wear white shirts, blue jeans, boots and their competition "letter" bibs.

Going into Monday night's competition, Fisher had only one thought on her mind, to do her best. "I tried to forget the past and focus on what I know," she said.

Hamilton Southeastern High School teacher of more than 40 years, Tom Younts -- who has been involved in the county

4-H program for 36 years, volunteering with 4-H cattle, swine and sheep -- was Fisher's Livestock Production teacher at HSEHS. He was right there on the Show Arena floor proudly watching his student compete and win the glory on Monday.

"Two years, she was close; she was Reserve (in 2019 and 2020). Last year, she didn't make it (to Supreme)," said Younts. "It was a hard pill to swallow. You know it's been a goal since she got into high school. It's like something we talk about, we talk about in class..."

Younts thought back earlier in the day on Monday when Fisher qualified for Supreme Showmanship by winning Senior Beef Showman. He remembers thinking, "At least she's in. It's all up to her now. You just have to open the door. She'll fill the room and take care of everything else."

What put Fisher over the top to achieve the win this time around? "I think probably being through it once before helped and not winning, being Reserve, and not winning last year, and not getting in, gave her added motivation that she wanted it," Younts said.

Mom Tracy Fisher said, "I'm so proud. She worked so hard..."

The mom turned and looked at her daughter and said, "This is how you go out at 10 years. You did awesome." And they hugged.

Kassidy Schakel, Atlanta, a member of Jackson Hotshots 4-H Club, was 2022 Supreme Showmanship Reserve Champion, representing Sheep. Other Senior Showmen competing in Supreme Showmanship were Macie Barth, Carmel, Giddy Up Gang 4-H Club, representing Horse; Olivia Long, Cicero, Husky 4-H'ers, representing Dairy Cattle; Kaitlyn Graham, Anderson, Southeastern 4-H Club, representing Swine; Tatym Green, Cicero, New Heights 4-H Club, representing Meat Goat; and Helen Koch, Sheridan, Harey Hoppers 4-H Club, representing Dairy Goat. Each of the 4-H'ers were earlier Senior Showman in each species' animal barn to qualify for the Supreme Showmanship.

Shortly thereafter, "blood was gushing from Mr. Gray's nose."

The mouse (it was indeed a mouse) had darted up Gray's leg and either bit or scratched him.

The incident left Gray with an inch-long scar. The mouse, caught by some bystanders as he attempted to escape, didn't survive.

And now, presenting the Killer Turtle, straight from its habitat on a White River Township farm!

According to the May 3, 1933 Ledger, this ferocious beast had been running (I use the term loosely) around the same general area for at least 38 years.

Farmer Ora Newton, who'd discovered the box turtle a few days earlier, immediately recognized it. In 1895, when he was a boy, he'd carved his initials into the turtle's shell. Over time, the names of Newton's brother and sons had also been added to the shell.

And just how did the turtle gain its lethal reputation? A few years earlier, one of Newton's young sons had flung it at a rabbit.

The bunny died, but the turtle was "none the worse for this experience."

Our next act is Noblesville's "Canine Champion Roof Climber," reported in the April 18, 1933 Ledger.

"Bare footed and without the use of any brakes," Captain Jenks Cryderman thrilled witnesses with a death-defying leap over the "very steep, 35% grade, smooth-surfaced" roof of the local traction company's freight house. (The traction company operated the interurban.)

After a running start, the two year-old Boston terrier hurtled over the peak of the roof and down the opposite side. He then went back up and over, ending his performance with a safe landing in the arms of his mistress, Mrs. George Cryderman, wife of the traction company's local agent.

And now, the grand finale -- the Fiddling Bear!

According to the May 2, 1890, Hamilton County Ledger, in the years before the Indians left this area, three Ohio men came here to hunt and explore along Cicero Creek.

One of them brought along an old fiddle to while away "the tedious hours of frontier monotony." This fiddle and its bow were kept together on some pegs, high on a wall of the hunters' log cabin.

During one of their excursions around the area, the men discovered a bee tree. Collecting a considerable amount of honey from the tree, they carried the sweet treat back to the cabin and placed it on a log that protruded over the fiddle.

The next day as they returned from hunting, they were startled to hear fiddle music coming from their cabin.

A cautious investigation revealed the musician was not an Indian, as they'd feared, but a bear who'd taken advantage of their open door. In attempting to get at the honey, "his bearship" had caught his paw in the fiddle's bow, producing the music.

The impromptu concert ended when the men closed the door and shot the bear through a window.

Hearing Loss Makes Your BRAIN WORK HARDER

Beltone Hearing Care Practitioner

If you're struggling to hear, you don't just miss a few sounds here or there. New research shows that adults with hearing loss experience a 40% faster decline in cognitive abilities. This suggests that the entire brain may be struggling to fill in the gaps caused by untreated hearing loss.

Beltone Hearing Care Practitioners point to new research. "Several studies have done imaging to look at the brains of people with varying degrees of hearing loss," Beltone says.

With normal hearing, the section of the brain that's responsible for hearing lights up during imaging. But the scans reveal a different picture for a person with untreated hearing loss. Researchers found that the hearing center of the brain shrinks in age-related hearing loss. Therefore, other areas of the brain necessary for memory and thinking must take over to help compensate. That's why people with hearing loss are more fatigued at the end of the day. Your brain is having to work harder if you have untreated hearing loss.

"We want to keep you as healthy as we possibly can. And with hearing aids, you're not only taking care of your hearing and your relationships, but we have the potential, because of the auditory stimulation, to provide benefit for your brain health."

The symptoms may be obvious when you're struggling to hear your grandchild or trying hard to follow a conversation in a crowded place, but many people do not realize that even when you're home alone or in a quiet environment, your brain is still having to work harder than it should to compensate for your hearing loss.

Thankfully, research is showing that when hearing loss is detected early and treated with hearing aids, the brain can reorganize itself back to its usual operation. This research may help explain the link between hearing loss, cognitive decline and memory loss.

Beltone Hearing Care Practitioners say "We want to keep you as healthy as we possibly can. With hearing aids, you're not only taking care of your hearing and your relationships, but we have the potential, because of the auditory stimulation, to provide benefit for your brain health. Hearing loss is not just about your ears. A lot of people tell us that they 'get by just fine', but we remind them that they need to think beyond communication and instead think in terms of overall health."

Complimentary Services:

BUILD A RELATIONSHIP with a Hearing Care Specialist you can trust

If you've had a hearing exam before, you can expect a very different experience when you walk into Beltone. The Specialists readily admit that their goal is to help treat hearing loss, not to sell you a hearing aid.

"Often people walk in and their guard is up," say Beltone. "We get it. They say, 'I don't want to be sold to'. I say, 'Great! You're in a great spot!' We're health professionals, working in your best interest."

While many folks shop for the lowest price for hearing aids, it is highly recommended to shop for the best healthcare professional that you feel comfortable with to ensure your satisfaction and success.

"Think of your hearing in terms of the whole package. If you needed knee surgery, would you shop for the cheapest implant or the most qualified and experienced surgeon to provide the best product, outcome and follow-up care?"

You will be satisfied not when you pay the lowest price but when you get the best overall value for your investment, which is why at Beltone we are professional hearing care specialists that offer the most advanced hearing technology and service.

We pull from over 80 years of hearing healthcare experience and expertise to truly customize options to each individual budget and lifestyle.

Instead of focusing solely on price, We suggest you meet with a hearing care specialist who can not only determine if you have hearing loss and suggest a course of treatment, but work with you every step of the way to improve your quality of life.

"We come at hearing in terms of overall health. We want to build a relationship with you throughout your life. We understand the emotional and financial investment involved, which is why our goal is to keep you hearing your best for as long as we possibly can," Beltone says.

Belton will provide an honest and clear path for your hearing loss. At Beltone we stand behind everything we do. If you're unhappy with the devices, we don't want you to leave them in the drawer. We set people up for success so they have a positive experience. We know it's an investment, and that's why we're going to take care of you.

TIME TO TAKE YOUR HEARING HEALTH SERIOUSLY

Hearing may be the most underappreciated of the five senses. If you can't see well, of course, you'll visit a licensed eye doctor to get glasses or contacts to correct your vision. But, in this day and age, people are still hesitant to see a hearing care specialist, professionals that are highly trained to treat hearing loss.

"The reasons are endless," says Beltone. "Many of us don't think we're old enough to need hearing aids, or we worry they'll make us look older. Some of us don't think our hearing loss is bad enough to need help, or we're worried about the cost."

The fact is that even a mild hearing loss may be affecting your brain function, your sense of balance and your relationships with family and friends.

"Hearing loss is hard on relationships."

You may think the simple solution is to just turn the TV louder or ask your kids or grandkids to speak up, but even a mild hearing loss can affect you in countless ways. If your hearing is at all impaired, your brain has to work harder, trying to make out words and sounds. A hearing loss can make it harder to interact in social situations, to spend time with family, or to be productive at work. Research has linked untreated hearing loss with cognitive decline, dementia and an increased risk of falls.

THE SOLUTION: Resolve to schedule a free hearing exam. It's quick, easy, and will provide you with the information you need to move forward in life.
