People who call our community their own.

What makes Ann Vernon Barnes smile? "Kindness, people that tell you they're going to do something and actually do it, ice cream and pizza, and my family and friends who support me," said the Noblesville native and 1986 Noblesville High School graduate. She has a daughter, Chandler, 26, and son-in-law, Andrew Jessup; and son, Ryan Barnes (NHS Class of 2018), 23, who just graduated from Indiana University where he played football for five years. "I'm super proud of both of them," she said. "This is the first fall that I will not be attending football every single week." She was found at the Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville admiring the Club Kids' quilt coloring contest entries, which are now on display through Saturday at the Noblesville Township Community Center during the Hamilton County Bicentennial Fabric Arts Show. As Noblesville Township Trustee Resource Coordinator, she helped coordinate the show. For the past 25 years, she's lived all over the nation and returned to Noblesville about 10 years ago. At NHS, she was class president and played on the NHS Lady Millers girls basketball team with the late Krissi Davis and Courtney Cox Cole. Ann was a senior when Krissi was a junior and Courtney was a freshman. "They were dear friends of mine." Greatest passion? "I love basketball. I love basketball, and I would play to this day if I could." She said, "I'm very passionate about children. I'm very passionate about people." She coaches Boys & Girls Club Girls Youth Basketball, Grades 4-6, at the Club's Community Center. "We went undefeated this year and won the tournament." She'll be coaching girls basketball again this school year at the Boys & Girls Club. What else? She got engaged to Mike Huber on the Fourth of July weekend. Read more about the Fabric Arts Show and quilt coloring contest in the Betsy Reason column in today's edition of The Times.

Fabric, Quilt Show Inspires Club Kids To Color In Contest

BETSY REASON
From The Editor's Desk...

As part of Noblesville Township Trustee Office's Bicentennial activities, kids at the Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville had an opportunity to learn about quilts and to color quilt patterns and win prizes in a Club quilt coloring contest.

The youth activities were coordinated in partnership with the Trustee Office and Nickel Plate Arts in Noblesville for this week's Hamilton County Bicentennial Fabric Arts Show. The show, which opened at noon Tuesday and continues through Saturday, showcases dozens of artists and techniques for different fabric arts along with nearly 50 quilts.

All of the kids who participated in the coloring contest received a goodie bag. The top winners received $20 Moonshot or Alexander's gift cards "The whole reason we're doing this (quilt pattern coloring contest) is to promote our Fabric Show, which Dotty (Young) has put together," said Ann Vernon Barnes, Resource Coordinator for Noblesville Township Trustee Office.

There are about 50 quilts that are on display during this week's show.

"Plus, all of the artwork by the kids, we're going to display," at the event, Barnes said.

There were 44 Club Kids, ages 6-12, who participated in the coloring contest. Winners in the contest were PrinceFa Mwachande, 7; Madelyn Doerr, 8; Jenae Cardenas, 8; Ellie Casteel, 9; and Damon Howard, 10.

"It was a neat conversation. A lot of the kids don't know what a quilt is," said Wendy

Good to know: Show showcases dozens of artists and techniques for different fabric arts, in addition to Boys & Girls Club of Noblesville's quilt coloring contest winners.

Casteel, Boys & Girls Club unit director. "We had a conversation about what a quilt is..." She also printed color pictures of quilt patterns for the kids to see.

Township Trustee Theresa Caldwell and Barnes came up with the idea to get the Club Kids involved with a coloring contest to promote the Fabric Show.

"I was going to have coloring sheets at the show so children could do one there or take one home, but they came up with this idea," Young said.

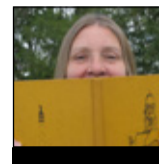

"For such a short period of time and (some kids) not really knowing what a quilt is, I think they did a wonderful job," Young said, looking at all of the entries.

The Club Kids colored an array of patterns.

"This is the way a real quilter could design a quilt," Young said, admiring the entries.

A Quiz On Bicentennial Spotlight, Wayne Township

PAULA DUNN
From Time to Thyme

Another month, another township in the Bicentennial spotlight! Wayne Township is being featured in August. That means it's time for the Wayne Township quiz.

1. Who were Wayne Township's first white settlers?
2. Is the township's largest creek "Stoney Creek" or "Stony Creek?"
3. What was Clarksville's original name?
4. Which Clarksville structure has a historical marker?
5. Ruoff Home Mortgage Music Center has gone by several other names. Can you list them?
6. Who was the first person to perform at the venue in question No. 5?
7. How did Durbin get its name?
8. Wayne Township's eastern boundary is State Road 13 / Atlantic Road, also known as the Madison County line. What roads form the other three boundaries?
9. True or False — Wayne Township is the only township in Hamilton County without a park.

And the answers:

1. John Finch, his son, Israel, and their families. They were among the first Horseshoe Prairie settlers, but John Conner bought that land out from under them, so in 1823 the Finches moved again to what is today the area south of State Road 38 and west of Boden Road. (They made sure their claim to THAT land was recorded before someone else beat them to it!)
2. There doesn't seem to be an authoritative source for this, so you may see both spellings. However, if you do a search in Newspapers.com, you'll get almost 13,000 hits on "Stony Creek" (1869 to 2008,) and only about 4,000 on "Stoney Creek" (1875 to 2008.) That's why I go with "Stony."
3. Nicholsonville. It was named for Abraham Nicholson, who laid it out in 1849. Nicholsonville had a post office in 1850, then from 1850 to 1902 the post office was called "Clarksville." I've never found anything that explains the reason for the name change, but my guess is, they probably learned there was already a Nicholsonville post office in Indiana.

Fishers Police Arrest - Auto Theft And Resisting Law Enforcement

Fishers Police arrested four juveniles for breaking into vehicles in the Napleton KIA of Fishers parking lot, 13417 Britton Park Road in Fishers.

Officers were dispatched to Britton Park Road on Sunday, August 6, at approximately 5:00 am. Napleton KIA has a security video monitoring system on the property and the Hamilton County Communications Center was notified of several subjects breaking into vehicles. Officers arrived in the area to investigate and observed one suspect running north across the property. At the same time, officers observed a black 2014 Kia Soul exit the parking lot.

Officers set a perimeter to locate the suspect on foot. Officers completed an area search, utilized a K-9 Unit, and a drone but did not locate the suspect. Other officers observed the black KIA Soul flee northbound on SR 37 traveling in the southbound lanes and initiated a pursuit. The suspect vehicle crossed the median before turning south in the southbound lanes near Greenfield Avenue in Noblesville. Officers deployed tire deflation devices on SR 37. The suspect vehicle continued south and crashed near SR 37/I-69 near 116th Street. Four suspects fled from the vehicle on foot.

The driver was taken into custody shortly after exiting the vehicle. Officers from the Fishers Police Department and Noblesville Police Department set a perimeter to search the area. Three suspects were located hiding in the same trash dumpster. A Noblesville K-9 Unit assisted with apprehension. All three suspects were taken into custody and the investigation is ongoing.

The black 2014 KIA Soul was stolen from a residence in Indianapolis. Officers identified six (6) damaged vehicles in the Napleton KIA of Fishers parking lot. Two vehicles had smashed windows and five of the vehicles had interior damage including damage to the steering column/ignition switch.

Ward Placed On National Committees

Hamilton County Surveyor Kenton C. Ward was recently appointed to five committees with the National Association of Counties (NACo). Ward was appointed to serve on the Information Technology Standing Committee, Resilient Counties Advisory Board and the Rural Action Caucus. He was also named to leadership positions as Chair of the Water Subcommittee and Vice Chair of the GIS Subcommittee. The appointments were made by NACo President Mary Jo McGuire, Commissioner, Ramsey County, Minnesota. "It's an honor to be chosen to serve on these committees and to be able to bring back to Hamilton County what I have learned by doing so" said Ward. "It's important to make sure local and county issues are heard at the federal level. Through these appointments and the strength of NACo, Hamilton County has a seat at the national policy table." In addition to his seat on these committees, Ward continues to serve on the NACo Board of Directors and the Environment, Energy and Land Use Steering Committee.

'We Cannot Afford To Be Complacent': Chamber Releases 2035 Economic Vision For State

By Leslie Bonilla Muniz
Indiana Capital Chronicle

Indiana's influential Chamber of Commerce on Monday released its third long-term economic plan for the state — two years ahead of schedule, and as both Indiana and the chamber itself prepare for major leadership changes.

The ambitious vision seeks to advance workforce, education, business climate, infrastructure, quality of place and health initiatives.

"Indiana Prosperity 2035 is more than just an update to a prior plan. It's a new vision with a goal of accelerating the move of Indiana's economy to an even greater high," chamber board chair Paul Perkins said at a virtual news conference Tuesday. He's also president of Amatrol Inc., a technical education provider.

The organization's previous plan was set to extend through 2025. But longtime chamber President and CEO Kevin Brinegar said board and staff members decided to "pivot" in 2020, during the pandemic-induced "tremendous upheaval in our economy."

The 20-page document will guide the chamber's advocacy work with policymakers and others, Brinegar said. That includes the state's next governor.

Brinegar said his team would ask each declared gubernatorial candidate "for the opportunity to go through it with them, to encourage them to embrace it and adopt as much of it as they see fit." The general election is November 2024.

The 12-year plan also comes with Brinegar himself on the way out. He's set to retire in January 2024 after 31 years with the chamber.

Goals run the gamut

Forty policy experts, business leaders and others spent 18 months putting the latest plan together, which focuses on similar pillars as in the past: workforce, education, business climate, infrastructure, quality of place and health.

But Brinegar said the goals within each area had changed.

In workforce, for example: over the last decade, the percentage of Hoosiers with a postsecondary credential rose from 32% to 54%, according to the chamber. Now, the organization wants to aim for 70%.

"I am optimistic that (even) if we don't quite get there, we're going to be better served for having had this goal to work towards since 2012, and continuing on into the future," Brinegar said.

The chamber also hopes to see double the number of Hoosiers with STEM-related postsecondary credentials by 2035, and more with bachelor's degrees. It additionally wants the state to keep more college graduates, especially international students with STEM degrees, and to get workforce participation from 63% to 70%.

Higher participation would fill the 100,000 jobs open statewide, Brinegar said.

"To do this we have to lift up the skills of the folks at the lower end of the education attainment level," he said. "It's unacceptable to have 60% of our high school dropouts not in the workforce. We've got to get them off the sidelines and onto the playing field."

In education, the chamber said it wanted more Hoosier students proficient in math and English, higher graduation rates — not counting waivers — and publicly funded pre-kindergarten programs accessible statewide. Brinegar also highlighted a desire to consolidate small school districts.

Lawmakers have already fulfilled one goal, with recent legislation enabling automatic enrollment of qualifying students into the 21st Century Scholars program.

When it comes to business, the chamber offered congratulations on the state's "competitive business and regulatory environment" but said the state should focus on some investment, entrepreneurship, productivity, patent and intellectual property metrics.

"It is so important for us to be successful in this area (entrepreneurship), because we have to grow our own," said volunteer task force chair Larry Gigerich, who also leads economic development group Ginovus. "Indiana is not likely to be a state where we're going to get a lot of headquarters to relocate here. It's just not something that is necessarily a perfect fit for us."

In infrastructure, the chamber announced goals of high speed communication connectivity for all and carbon neutral targets. Lawmakers have already taken action on two other goals: a state energy strategy and a road improvement program.

But water and wastewater needs still need to be addressed.

"We've seen the struggles that have happened in the Boone County area with the LEAP district, which was laid out — but perhaps not enough thought (was) given to where the water for these massive manufacturing and laboratory facilities was going to come from," Brinegar remarked.

The chamber highlighted quality of place initiatives to help retain and attract more residents, as well as water, air quality and affordable housing goals. Though the state has gained population overall, Indiana's smallest communities are losing people.

And finally, on health, the chamber hoped to lower smoking and addiction levels, "contain" health care costs and boost civic engagement.

"The cost in loves, lost futures and lost productivity is simply staggering," the report notes. "... Indiana's unhealthy population is a drag on economic growth and a tremendous cost to taxpayers."

Tracking metrics

Brinegar said the chamber would release its first baseline report card this fall, and would likely continue releasing them on a biennial basis.

Indiana's business community, philanthropic community and governmental entities are most effective when they are aligned, Gigerich said. And he advocated for all to resource the plan and "seize this opportunity."

"We cannot afford to be complacent," he said.

NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF PRELIMINARY DETERMINATION
Notice is hereby given pursuant to Indiana Code § 6-1.1-20-3.5 that the Board of School Trustees (the "Board") of Hamilton Heights School Corporation (the "School Corporation") did, on July 28, 2023, make a preliminary determination to issue bonds and enter into a Lease Agreement (the "Lease") for the construction, renovation and improvements to school facilities including construction of a student wellness center, site and athletic improvements and the purchase of equipment and technology (the "Project"). The Lease will be for a maximum term of 22 years with a maximum annual Lease rental of $5,000,000. The maximum annual Lease rental has been estimated based upon an estimated principal amount of bonds of $25,000,000, estimated interest rates ranging from 1.00% to 6.00%, and total estimated interest costs of $17,364,550.

As required by Indiana Code § 6-1.1-20-3.5(b)(1), the following information was available to the public at the public hearings on the preliminary determination: (i) the School Corporation's current and projected annual debt service payments divided by the net assessed value of taxable property within the School Corporation, which is 0.7126%; and (ii) the sum of the School Corporation's outstanding long term debt plus the outstanding long term debt of other taxing units that include any other territory of the School Corporation divided by the net assessed value of taxable property within the School Corporation, which is 8.18%.

The School Corporation's current debt service levy is $6,784,759 and the current rate is $0.6321 after the School Corporation enters into the proposed Lease and the bonds are issued, the debt service levy will increase by a maximum of $5,000,000 and the debt service rate will increase by a maximum of $0.4658. However, as existing obligations mature, including the general obligation bonds, there is no anticipated increase to the Debt Service Fund tax rate above the 2023 certified rate.

The estimated amount of the School Corporation's debt service levy and rate that will result during the following 10 years if the School Corporation enters into the lease and issues the bonds, after considering any changes that will occur to the debt service levy and rate during that period on account of any outstanding bonds or lease obligations that will mature or terminate during that period:

Year	Estimated Total	Estimated Total
	Estimated Total	Estimated Total
2023	6,783,634.05	0.6320
2024	6,825,631.66	0.6056
2025	6,876,793.72	0.5811
2026	6,341,862.70	0.5104
2027	6,563,385.08	0.5031
2028	6,555,296.80	0.5024
2029	6,556,039.94	0.5025
2030	6,555,553.89	0.5025
2031	6,554,305.39	0.5024
2032	6,550,779.14	0.5021
2033	6,544,751.94	0.5016

The Project involves the opening of new school facility space; however, the new school facility space will be efficient, and the School Corporation does not expect to annually incur a significant increase its cost to operate such new facility space. The purpose of the Lease is to provide for the Project.

If a valid petition pursuant to Indiana Code § 6-1.1-20-3.5 is received within 30 days from the first publication of this notice, the proposed debt service or Lease payments must be approved in an election on a local public question held under Indiana Code § 6-1.1-20-3.6.

Young became Noblesville Township Bicentennial representative and planner of events when now retired Noblesville Township Trustee Tom Kenley was still in office. Many of the activities that Young wanted to do, she said, the City of Noblesville took over, and she's glad that her ideas have been used.

She became involved with the Bicentennial after enjoying the Sesquicentennial "and a lot of the things they did."

Young especially liked the quilt and fabric show idea.

"I just thought quilts are one thing that span time because a lot of people have old quilts, but people are still making quilts, like T-shirt quilts," she said.

Young owns quilts made by her great-grandmother. "My mother never made a quilt," she said.

"Just the fact that everybody needs cover and warmth, and it was a way to use up leftovers," said Young, who has a small doll quilt that her aunt made for her as a child. "One of the quilts that I do have is wool ... They would use up men's suits, men's coats, anything they had to keep warm and also do something pretty."

Young said, "And if you were in a quilting bee with friends or relatives, it was a social event, and other people would give you advice. Her (Ann Barnes') grandmother was my aunt, and she was a wonderful quilter, and she taught me what little I know."

Young loves to learn the history of quilts, and she said Always in Stitches on Conner Street has been a great quilt source for finding out more about how to make quilts.

Folks who attend the Fabric Show will be invited to vote for their favorite quilts, the heritage quilts and the newer fiber arts.

The Boys & Girls Club is closed the first two weeks of August, with the first day of the 2023-24 After School Program to begin on Aug. 14. (I don't know why "Clarksville" was chosen to replace "Nicholsonville," or how they got away with it, given that the Clarksville on the Ohio River was larger and considerably older. I would have thought that town had a stronger claim to the name.)

According to Tom Heller, the principal of Durbin School from 1974 to 2002, sometime around 1900 the locals felt they deserved a post office. They thought they'd have a better chance of getting one if they named the community for Winfield T. Durbin, an Anderson businessman who served as Indiana's governor from 1901 to 1905.

(Apparently it worked. Durbin had a post office from 1890 to 1905.)

An Affordable Dentures & Implants patient enjoys his new smile.

Affordable Dentures & Implants offers dental implant procedures that can restore the look, feel and function of a patient's teeth.

Dental implants provide many benefits for denture wearers. Denture wearers often experience challenges eating, talking, and interacting with others, and find their dentures to be less secure than natural teeth. Dental implants help secure a patient's denture, so the patient does not experience these issues.

The advantages of dental implants include:

- Protection of Existing Teeth and Bone Structure: A dental implant takes the place of a missing tooth. The dental implant is attached directly to the jaw. As a result, it prevents any remaining teeth from shifting and causing damage or bone loss.
- Better Feel and Function: If a patient has been missing teeth for a while, they often share how much of an inconvenience it is in their daily life—especially when it comes to eating. A dental implant allows patients to eat the foods they once enjoyed.
- Restored Confidence: Teeth affect how a patient speaks and smiles, which also affects their sense of confidence. Dental implant surgery restores teeth. In turn, patients may find it easier to smile for pictures, and communicate with friends and loved ones.
