Three Things You Should Know

- The 167th Indiana State Fair is all wrapped up and officials say it was an overwhelming success. In terms of attendance, despite extremely hot temperatures the opening weekend, the 2024 attendance reached 854,236 – an increase over 2023's 840,414. Final figures show an annual increase of fairgoers staying longer during each visit, with many vendors and partners reporting record sales.
- Prophetstown State Park invites everyone to create your one-of-a-kind scarecrow for the 15th Annual Trail of Scarecrows, Oct. 1–Nov. 4. Scarecrows will be featured along Prophetstown's paved accessible trail for easy hiking, biking, and strolling. Promote recycling and upcycling by repurposing used items and materials to create fun (and funky!) art for this special event. It's free to participate. The public will have the chance to vote for their favorite scarecrows with a $1 donation. For more information, email Jenna Parks Freeman at jparks@dnr.IN.gov.
- There is a new Kurt Vonnegut display at the Indianapolis Airport. It will be there through the end of the year. The KIND Gallery at the airport is part of the Indy airport's larger terminal optimization initiative that showcases the culture, tastes and talents of the Indianapolis community. The new exhibit features memorabilia and works in tribute to the life, literature and influence of iconic Hoosier Kurt Vonnegut. Barry Dixon loves Lucky Teter, Antique Cars, Helping Kids

Noblesville Freemason Barry Dixon (left) started the Lucky Teter Rebel Run Car and Vintage Motorcycle Show 15 years ago to benefit the Masonic Temple Angel Fund and this year has gotten volunteer help from Freemason Jake Waterman (right) to grow the sponsorships to more than a dozen benefiting the car show which is Saturday at Forest Park in Noblesville.

Barry and Michelle Dixon of Noblesville didn't have their first date in an old car, but they've had many dates since then in their 1955 Cadillac, that they call, "Ms. Dixie" and which they show every year at the Lucky Teter Rebel Run Car and Vintage Motorcycle Show, which is Saturday at Forest Park in Noblesville and benefits the Masonic Temple Angel Fund.

A Noblesville car show that honors the late daredevil Earl "Lucky" Teter and raises money for local kids is set for this Saturday at Noblesville's Forest Park.

than $30,000 over the years for the Angel Fund, began in 2010 thanks to Dixon's passion for old cars. Originally started in the parking lot of the Noblesville bowling alley, the show's move to Forest Park changed themes after Dixon, fascinated with Lucky Teter's history, discovered that Teter was also a Freemason, the "ultimate tie-in," he said.

The 14th annual Lucky Teter Rebel Run Car and Vintage Motorcycle Show is 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., with spectators admitted free.

Saturday's weather forecast calls for perfect car show weather: a sunny, warm day with a high temperature of 89 F.

The show benefits Noblesville Masonic Angel Fund which is set up through school nurses to help grade-school children with needs, such as eyeglasses and dental work that families cannot afford.

"The funds raised for the Noblesville Masonic Angel Fund stay in Noblesville to help Noblesville children," said Noblesville Freemason Barry Dixon, a 1981 Noblesville High School graduate and a Freemason of more than 20 years.

"We wanted to do something to keep his memory alive in Noblesville," Dixon said.

The show now attracts more than 200 cars and motorcycles under the shade trees at Forest Park.

Dixon, a collector of Lucky Teter memorabilia, loves to share the story of Teter and his Hell Drivers, who were nationally known daredevils from the 1930s and early 1940s and performed an automotive thrill show throughout the United States. In Teter's show, he used cars just as they came from the factory and wore goggles and a leather football helmet for safety.

Teter died 82 years ago on July 5, 1942, while performing a stunt at the Indiana State Fair. Two days later, Teter was

Old Sheriff's Residence and Jail Quiz

PAULA DUNN
From Time to Thyme

A recent visit to the Sheriff's Residence and Jail on the courthouse square reminded me that I haven't written anything about that historic old building for a long time.

Since we also haven't had a quiz for a while, this week I decided to kill two birds with one stone.

Test your knowledge of one of Hamilton County's oldest landmarks!

- Which is older – the Sheriff's Residence and Jail, or the old courthouse that sits beside it?
- The old jail on the courthouse square wasn't this county's first jail. How many came before it and where were they located?
- Was there ever a successful escape from the old jail?
- True or False – The sheriff's wife was expected to cook the meals for the inmates.
- What famous people have been locked up in the jail?
- When did the old jail on the square cease to be used?
- Today, the Old Sheriff's Residence and Jail is the home of the Hamilton County Historical Society Museum. What year did the HCHS move into the building?

And the answers . . .

- The Sheriff's Residence and Jail opened in 1876. Construction was completed on the courthouse three years later in 1879.

- The county's first lockup was a log jail that sat just north of Riverside Cemetery. That site soon proved to be unsuitable, so the jail was relocated to the northwest corner of the courthouse square.

In 1853, the log jail was replaced by a brick jail at the same location.

Pondering Deep (Or Not) Thoughts in Middle of the Night

TIM TIMMONS
Two Cents

Like so many others, I struggle to sleep. Never used to. In the old days, I could plop the head down and in moments be in la-la land.

No more.

Between what feels like non-ending bathroom trips, nights aren't nearly as peaceful as they used to be. So I find myself reading a lot more and when that doesn't work, I stare at a dark ceiling. And wonder.

For example, I was listening to WIBC's Kendall and Casey the other day and heard someone say they are a trans man who is gay. Does that mean this was really a woman who wants to be a man? And if that is the case, is she referring to being a man AND being gay . . . and wouldn't that make her straight? What a weird world we live in today.

ALONG THOSE lines, could someone help me understand a couple of things about men who say they are women competing in sports? Forget the moral, ethical or religious concerns for a moment. Just a couple of basic questions – how are women OK with this? Women like Billie Jean King who championed womens' rights – who fought so hard. Now, she apparently OK with women being pushed aside for men? And let's say the world suddenly woke up and said it's OK for men to compete against women in swimming, track and field, etc. How in the world is it OK in boxing? Boxing? Really?

EVER NOTICE how in the Lord's prayer it says "as we forgive those who trespass against us?" Ever wonder what the word "as" means in that usage? I don't want to get all Bill Clinton here and debate what the mean of the word is. But does it mean that we ask the Big Guy

Upstairs to forgive us "while" we are forgiving others? Or does it mean we are saying we want him to forgive us in the same way we forgive those who have really ticked us off? Yeah, that one makes me lose sleep!

DO YOU read much online news? If so, maybe you can tell me why so many headlines on stories involving Trump use some version of the word "false?" There was one recently that said Trump Falsely Labeled Female Boxers as Men. Thing is, this is supposed to be news – not commentary. That means the reporter and web site have some obligation to report the story straight down the middle. If they want to write an opinion piece saying Trump is wrong, that's fine. Label it as such. But why do they continue to interject their opinion on all things Trump? I haven't seen similar treatments of Kamala Harris, Joe Biden or anyone else.

OK, LAST note and then I'm going to try to take a nap. What was it Sgt. Phillip Esterhaus used to tell the officers on Hill Street Blues? Let's be careful out there. Folks, it's hot – and the next few days are going to be scorching.

We've seen it hot before, but it's still a good reminder to stay indoors, keep hydrated and not do anything silly.

For summer lovers like me, the 90s are welcome. Remember, fall is only 25 days away. And if our first freeze comes around Oct. 26, that's only 59 days away. Yeah, the 90s are just fine.

Reader Urges Getting to Know School Board Candidates

Dear Editor,

As we approach the elections this November, I encourage my fellow Noblesville residents to get to know the candidates for our school board. This board has an enormous responsibility, overseeing nearly 11,000 students and over 1,600 staff members. The decisions made by the school board impact every aspect of our district, from educational quality to staff well-being, and they also involve the management of your tax dollars, which constitute a significant portion of your property taxes. We all have felt the pinch of rising tax bills over the past few years, and it is crucial to understand how the candidates plan to address these financial challenges.

To make an informed decision, it is essential to delve deep into the candidates' platforms. Ask them about their plans for funding, budgets, and referendums. These elements are the backbone of how our schools operate and thrive. A well-thought-out budget can mean the difference between a thriving educational environment and one that struggles to meet basic needs. In the coming years, Indiana is expected to alter its property tax calculations, which will undoubtedly impact school funding. This potential shift underscores the importance of electing board members who are not only proactive but also experienced in navigating these complex financial landscapes.

These elected officials will face uncharted waters in school financing. They will be tasked with making tough choices that could affect the quality of education our children receive. Are the candidates prepared to handle such responsibilities? Do they have the wisdom and foresight to manage our district's financial health effectively? Engaging with the candidates on these critical questions will provide insights into their capabilities and priorities.

Moreover, understanding their motivations is crucial. Are they running for the board to genuinely improve our schools, or do they have other agendas? Knowing what drives them can help predict how they will perform under pressure and whether they will prioritize the needs of students and staff.

Community engagement is paramount in this process. Attending town hall meetings, candidate forums, and other public events where candidates speak can provide invaluable information. These platforms offer a chance to ask direct questions and hear candidates outline their visions for the future of our schools. Additionally, reviewing candidates' past records and endorsements can shed light on their experience and reliability.

Participating in these discussions and staying informed can lead to a more educated voting decision. Our school board members will play a pivotal role in shaping the educational landscape and managing the financial resources of our district. Their decisions will affect not only our children but also the overall well-being of our community. Therefore, it is not just our right but our duty to ensure that we choose the most qualified and dedicated individuals for these positions.

In closing, I urge every Noblesville resident to take this election seriously. Get to know the candidates, scrutinize their plans for our district, and understand their motivations. Your vote will contribute to the future of our schools and our community. Make sure it counts. Lastly, don't just stop at understanding—take the next step and go out to vote. Your participation is crucial in shaping a prosperous future for our children and our schools. Thank you.

Spartz Speaks Energy Policies at Forum in Texas

Rep. Victoria Spartz of Noblesville traveled to Texas to be a guest speaker at the U.S. Energy Forum hosted at the Petroleum Club of Houston with the goal to have a thoughtful conversation between the business community and policymakers on energy transition, stability, feasibility and sustainability. "Smart energy policies are key for a strong economy and stability around the world," Spartz said. "Congress needs to put everything on the table and on the menu, and have a serious discussion on energy policies, not politics, which can bring tremendous growth to our economy and improve global security."

given a full military funeral at Noblesville First United Methodist Church, followed by a mile-long procession to Crownland Cemetery in Noblesville.

Dixon and fellow Freemason Jake Waterman invited me to meet up on a recent morning at Forest Park to share more details about the Lucky Teter Rebel Run Car and Vintage Motorcycle Show, which this year has grown sponsorships to more than a dozen local businesses.

"We're trying to be more self sufficient, so we're not depending on the Lodge so much," said Dixon, who has gotten Waterman's help to solicit sponsorships to help not only promote the show but fund the many show awards that were previously funded by the lodge.

There are always several custom-made trophies, including the coveted "Lucky 13," Lucky Teter Legacy award and the Spider Mills Heritage Motorcycle Award.

Story's Collision Center, owned by Hamilton Heights High School grad Brian Story, has been the main car show sponsor for many years, with the name and logo on the event T-shirts (this year with design by Chris Baird). Story, a Freemason, pays for all of the shirts and makes a trophy. "He's been a huge help," Dixon said. (Souvenir T-shirts will be for sale at the show with money to go to the Angel Fund.)

Adding at least a dozen more sponsors, which are printed on a large banner on display at Forest Park, has really helped the fundraising this year, Dixon said.

Ginger's Cafe, owned by fellow classmate, 1981 NHS grad Mikki Perrine, is also a sponsor of the car show every year by providing food -- usually hamburgers, hot dogs and bratwursts -- at cost with sales benefiting the Angel Fund. "I don't know what I'd do without her," Dixon said. "We tried to do the kitchen for a while; it just never really worked out ... We have to have help."

Dixon, who has always planned and organized the car show with the assistance of his wife, Michelle, has gotten more help this year. "For a long time, I thought I had to do it all," Dixon said. "And Jake was like, 'Let me help. I'm right here.' So he's been taking on a bigger role with the car show. And we've also brought in some more guys from the Lodge to help out with giveaways, raising money and passing out flyers. So, it's taken a lot off Michelle and I, but there's still a lot to do."

What else? "We have opened the show up to more motorcycles," said Dixon, who has become less picky on the vintage. "... If you've got a bike (to show), bring it," he said. "We're here to make money."

The car show -- which started 15 years ago but is in its 14th year due to a 2020 hiatus during the COVID-19 pandemic -- is open to "any vehicle," Waterman chimed in. "$10," he said is the entry fee for each vehicle or motorcycle.

While Dixon said he's "kind of a purist at heart as far as old cars" and in his mind, he said when he started the car show, "I wanted to stay at vintage." But he said, "There are car guys who go to a dealership and buy a brand new car, and that's their baby, and they want to show that." That's one of the reasons he invites "any vehicle."

There's plenty of parking at the show, which in 2023 attracted a record 235 entries. "We wanted to top 200," Waterman said.

Dixon chose Labor Day weekend so that car enthusiasts would easily remember the date. "You got a long weekend. It's a really big weekend for cars," he said, also noting the 33rd annual Red Bridge Park Car Show that's on Labor Day, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday, in Cicero and benefiting Cicero Parks.

Dixon not only loves old cars but he and Michelle have a favorite car of their own. They found their 1955 red and white Cadillac about 13 years ago and had it restored, with new paint and all new interior. He is the second owner of the car, which has an original 331 V8 engine and manual transmission.

"My love for old cars definitely came from my father, Oscar Dixon, who is still very passionate about these old cars," he has said.

Dixon's first car, a 1966 Chevy Impala, was "our family car that was handed down to me," he said. The color was "Aztec Bronze," a maroon color.

Dixon met 1989 NHS grad Michelle Menchaca Dixon when he was 29 and she was 21. They were married a year later in 1993. While the Dixons love old cars, their first date was not in an old car.

Barry Dixon said, "However, we've had many dates since then in our 1955 Cadillac."

The Lucky Teter Rebel Run Car and Vintage Motorcycle Show, which is at the first shelter near the south entrance of Forest Park off of Indiana 19, is on the grass with plenty of shade and near the playgrounds and restrooms.

Dixon said a lot of families attend the event and "make a day of it."

The 1876 jail, the third jail, would have been built on the northwest corner too, but merchants on the south side of the square objected to the view they'd have, so the historic old Recorder's Office, which then occupied the southwest corner of the square, was demolished to make way for the new jail.

3. Oh, yeah! There were many escapes during the 101 years the jail was in use (as well as a number of failed attempts.)

The first successful jailbreak took place just a year after the facility opened in 1877 when six prisoners made it out. The last escape occurred only a couple of months before the jail closed. (It was the second escape that month!)

The most notorious jailbreak was probably that of Willie Mason and five other men in 1934. At the time, Mason was being held here while he awaited his second trial for the murder of an Indianapolis policeman.

4. True. They also did the laundry and performed many other duties WITHOUT BEING PAID until the General Assembly passed a bill in 1955 giving counties with a population under 50,000 the ability to hire a jail matron.

5. KKK Grand Dragon D. C. Stephenson, Charles Manson, and Robert and Willadene

Wotring, a couple wanted by the FBI for the interstate transportation of stolen property.

(I hope you didn't answer "John Dillinger." Dillinger was NEVER jailed here, although that tall tale never seems to die. In fact, Dillinger's only verified visit to Hamilton County came when he was involved in an automobile accident on the Range Line road (now U.S. 31) in 1934.

6. Most of the inmates in the old jail were moved into the new Cumberland Road jail during the early hours of May 17, 1977. (According to the Ledger, seven prisoners were left behind. Presumably, they were moved later.)

7. 1979. To learn more about the jail and how the sheriffs lived, as well as Hamilton County history in general, pay a visit to the Hamilton County Historical Society Museum. New museum director Sandy Lynch has installed some different exhibits. You'll also find a research library and a small gift shop area.

The museum is open Friday and Saturday, from noon to 5 p.m.

ORDINANCE 41-07-24
AN ORDINANCE AMENDING RATES AND CHARGES FOR THE USE OF AND SERVICES RENDERED BY THE CITY OF NOBLESVILLE, INDIANA SEWAGE WORKS AND AMENDING THE SERVICE, RATES, AND CHARGES FOR THE COLLECTION AND DISPOSAL OF TRASH AND SOLID WASTE
 WHEREAS, on July 28, 2020, the Common Council ("Council") City of Noblesville, Indiana ("City") adopted Ordinance No. 17-07-20, establishing rates and charges for the use of and services rendered by the City of Noblesville, Indiana Sewage Works; and
 WHEREAS, on November 14, 2023, the Council adopted Ordinance No. 43-10-23, amending the sewer rates and charges for certain water utility customers; and
 WHEREAS, Ind. Code § 36-9-23-25(b) provides that just and equitable fees are the fees required to maintain the sewage works in the sound physical and financial condition necessary to render adequate and efficient service; and
 WHEREAS, the City's municipal advisor, Baker Tilly Municipal Advisors, LLC ("Baker Tilly"), has conducted a rate study to analyze the costs associated with providing sewer service ("Rate Study"), and to recommend any changes to the City's existing rates and charges for sewage service. A copy of Baker Tilly's Rate Study is attached hereto as Exhibit A; and
 WHEREAS, based on the Rate Study and a recommendation from Baker Tilly, the Council now finds that the existing rates and charges for the use of the service rendered by the City's sewage works are insufficient to maintain the sewage works in the sound physical and financial condition necessary to render adequate and efficient service, and that the rates and charges set forth in the Rate Study for the City's sewer customers should be adopted; and
 WHEREAS, the City also previously passed Ordinance No. 18-07-20, establishing rates and charges for the City's trash collection services; and
 WHEREAS, pursuant to Indiana law, including Ind. Code §§ 36-9-23 and 36-9-30, the City may provide for the collection of solid waste, including garbage and rubbish; and
 WHEREAS, pursuant to Indiana Code § 36-9-30-5, the City may contract for the exclusive collection and removal of garbage, refuse, and waste within the City; and
 WHEREAS, Ind. Code § 36-9-23-25(d)(8) authorizes the Council to establish a fee to pay the cost of the City to collect and dispose of garbage and other trash in a sanitary manner and to collect said cost as part of the charges collected by the City's sewage works; and
 WHEREAS, the Council believes that it is fair and equitable to impose a fee to pay the costs of trash collection services provided to City residents; and
 WHEREAS, the Council finds that by contracting for garbage and rubbish removal on a City-wide basis, the City may provide for better City-wide rates, reduce large truck traffic and disturbances associated therewith, and otherwise benefit the general health and welfare of residents within the City; and
 WHEREAS, the City's contract with Republic Services was, by its terms, extended for an additional four years for trash collection for 2024-2028; and
 WHEREAS, the Council further finds that that the trash rates, charges, rules, and regulations established herein are just, equitable, and in the general health and welfare of the City, and should be established; and
 WHEREAS, prior to adoption of this Ordinance, the City will have provided notice and conducted a public hearing, at which hearing all interested parties had an opportunity to be heard concerning the proposed service, rates, and charges.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED, BY THE COMMON COUNCIL, CITY OF NOBLESVILLE, HAMILTON COUNTY INDIANA AS FOLLOWS:

the Governor

Last week, Gov. Eric Holcomb ceremonially signed Senate Enrolled Act 215 which I authored to help

Hoosiers with complicated health issues. This new law will help approximately 2,000 Hoosiers under the age of 65 with ALS or end stage renal disease purchase affordable Medigap plans, helping result in better health outcomes and reduce reliance on Medicaid.

I am happy to see Indiana join 16 other states that require Medigap access.

HAMILTON COUNTY
Trails Tool

Members of Hamilton County's Geographic Information Systems and park departments within the county have worked to create an online tool to map out every trail in Hamilton County.

Trail Finder provides details about trail distance, surface material and trailhead locations, making it easy to plan a hike, bike ride or nature walk.

This new tool makes it easier to get out and explore the natural beauty that Hamilton County has to offer.

When exploring, always remember to take necessary precautions and stay safe.

State Sen. Kyle Walker represents District 31 which includes portions of Hamilton and Marion counties.
