Data on Local Illegal Immigrant Arrests Released

Chief Deputy John Lowes of the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office has released statistical data regarding the number of arrests in Hamilton County of illegal immigrants and the impact of non-U.S. citizen arrests within the county. The data reflects the number of Hamilton County Jail bookings and the types of crimes committed by individuals without legal status, highlighting concerns related to public safety and law enforcement resources.

"This data underscores the need for strong law enforcement cooperation with federal immigration authorities to ensure public safety in Hamilton County," Lowes said. "We remain committed to enforcing the law equally and ensuring that all individuals who commit crimes are held accountable, regardless of their immigration status." According to the Hamilton County Sheriff's Office, over the past year, there have been 595 bookings involving individuals identified as illegal immigrants, or non-U.S. citizens. These arrests include a range of criminal offenses, including but not limited to the examples below:

- Sex Offenses 8 cases
- Drug Offenses 48 cases
- Weapon Offenses 14 cases

Assault / Intimidation - 46 cases

Lowes emphasized the importance of continuing proactive policing efforts, intelligence-sharing with federal agencies, and community engagement to address concerns surrounding crime and public safety.

"While the majority of our residents are law-abiding citizens, we cannot ignore the challenges posed by criminal activity among non-U.S. citizens," Lowes said. "Our priority remains keeping Hamilton County safe, and we will continue to work diligently to uphold the law and protect our community.

Fred's connection isn't obvious because of the "a" in "Hoard Drive."

As I've mentioned before, he was three years-old and his father passed away five years later. He had a stepmother, but having lost both her husband and a baby in the same year, she may not have been up to raising Fred.

Special Olympics Indiana's Polar Plunge returns to the northeast side of Indianapolis on Saturday, Feb. 22, as participants dare to Be Bold and Get Cold. The event at Wolfies Grill at Geist kicks off at 9 a.m. with registration. Plungers are scheduled to hit the water around 11 a.m. Prizes include honoring the top fundraiser and a costume contest. A post-event celebration begins afterward at Wolfies. As Special Olympics Indiana's signature fundraising series, participants must raise at least $99 for the opportunity to plunge. Plungers who raise at least the minimum earn a commemorative Polar Plunge Tshirt and a cup. For those who reach higher fundraising levels, additional incentive prizes are available. Visit PolarPlungeIN.org to learn more about the 2025 Polar Plunge events, register and donate to participants.

While he lived here, he was one of Noblesville's most prominent and well liked African American residents. The only reason he's largely forgotten today is that he spent the last 20 years of his life in Franklin, Ind.

I always assumed he was connected somehow to Hamilton Town Center's Hoard Drive, but I wasn't sure what the connection was until I started researching him.

It appears the street is actually named for Fred's father, John, a Civil War veteran who was the first African American to hold spelling in the 19th century was pretty fluid, making it impossible to determine a correct spelling for John's last name. You can find references to him as "John Hoard," "John Hord," and even a few times as "John Horde." (He appears as "Hord" three times and once as "Hoard" in his death notice!)

Given the family's clear preference for "Hord," however, it seems to me that "Hoard Drive" should really be "Hord Drive."

But, getting back to Fred . . .

Fred John Hord was born in 1876. His mother died when to the Indiana Solders' and Sailors' Orphans' Home in Knightstown after his father's death. (A couple of sources indicate he was the first African American accepted there, but I haven't confirmed that.)

Admission to the Orphans' Home was a turning point for the young boy. Not only did he excel in his classes (he "took the honors" at the 1890 commencement exercises,) he also learned the printing trade, which he was to follow the rest of his life.

TODAY'S JOKE

Around Valentine's Day, a man at the post office had a stack of scented cards and envelopes with bright red heart emojis. Each card had lipstick kisses inside and a simple inscription, Guess Who! In 1902 he became the first African American to join the Anderson Typographical Union.

An active member of the community, Hord spoke at various church and civic gatherings, participated in Republican politics and held offices in the local "colored" Masonic lodge.

He was a charter member of the local "colored" Knights of Pythias, and held offices in that lodge as well. In 1905 he was elected to the organization's highest statewide office, Grand Chancellor.

He left the Ledger in 1918 to take a position at the Indianapolis Freeman, a weekly African American newspaper published by well known author and activist George L. Knox.

About six years later, a former Ledger co-worker persuaded him to move to Franklin to work his magic on the Franklin Star's linotype machines.

Hord was as active in Franklin's community affairs as he had been here. In 1942, he helped

Johnathon Nail, City of Westfield, Department of Public Works jnail@ estfield.in.gov Introduction

In accordance with IC 5-23-5, the City of Westfield (the "City") is issuing this Request for Proposals (the "RFP") seeking proposals and statements of qualifications from qualified offerors for the development and construction of public infrastructure in support of planned development in the City (the "Development Area"), including the development of potential new economic development projects (the "Economic Development Projects"). The public infrastructure to be developed and constructed will include a new roadway and roundabouts, as well as the relocation of existing utilities along Tomlinson Road (all such development and construction is referred to as the "Project"). The Project scope will be finalized during a scoping period with the selected development team.

The City anticipates entering into a public-private partnership agreement with an offeror pursuant to IC 5-23 to provide the work, labor, equipment, and materials to develop and construct the Project within the budgetary and the time limitations required by the City. The selected offeror will be required to obtain a payment bond in an amount not less than one hundred percent (100%) of the final ost of the Project and a performance bond in an amount not less than fifty percer (50%) of the final cost of the Project.

Given the complexity and fast-paced nature of the Project, including the Given the complexity and fast-paced nature of the Project, including the need for considerable coordination among those working on each phase of the Project and on the Economic Development Projects, the City highly encourages a team approach to submitting proposals in response to this RFP. For the avoidance of doubt, in the context of this RFP, the term "develop" as defined by IC 5-23-2-5.5 shall mean to install and construct the Project Infrastructure, and the term "construct" as defined by IC 5-23-2-4 shall mean the process of building and assembling the Project Infrastructure. RFP Process and Scoping Period All offerors will be accorded fair and equal treatment with respect to any opportunity for discussion for the purpose of clarification to assure full understanding of and responsiveness to the solicitation requirements.

any opportunity for discussion for the purpose of clarification to assure full understanding of and responsiveness to the solicitation requirements. The final scope of the Project is to be determined in the scoping period described in the timeline above (the "Scoping Period"). The Scoping Period is anticipated to be a very intense and fast-paced process, with the goal of construction commencing no later than the Spring of 2025. The schedule will ultimately be determined during the Scoping Period, as it will be dependent upon several milestones coordinated by the City. Accordingly, during the Scoping Period, the selected offeror must be readily available, willingly share information, and actively engage with the City in order to finalize the scope, schedule, and costs of the Project. Proposals shall include the fees that would be charged, if any, for participating in the Scoping Period, as further discussed below. All if any, for participating in the Scoping Period, as further discussed below. All data, information and materials collected, assembled, prepared, and exchanged during the Scoping Period shall be solely owned by the City, and, by submitting a proposal, offerors release all rights in any such items to the City and the City may use the information from the proposals and Scoping Period for its use and benefit.

As the Scoping Period concludes, the City will request that the selected offeror submit a final and best offer to include pricing to develop and construct the Project and then engage in further negotiations leading to a guaranteed maximum price ("GMP"), time schedule, and schedule of values for the development and construction of the Project. A recommendation to award an agreement to develop and construct the Project to the offeror with a GMP, time schedule, and schedule of values that is advantageous and acceptable to the City may then be made by the Committee to the City.

In the alternative, a recommendation may be made to award an agreement to develop and construct a distinct phase of the Project, including a recommendation to award an agreement for different phases of the Project to separate offerors, in which case each of the awarded offerors shall be expected coordinate their work on the phase awarded to them with any and all other offerors accordingly.

The foregoing notwithstanding, the City reserves the right pursuant to IC 5-23-5-8 to terminate this RFP process at any time without making a recommendation to award an agreement to any offeror Pur to IC the Com
